FOREWORD

A HUNDRED YEARS is only a moment in history—yet this moment is molding us into what we are to be. In this fraction of time that we have spent here we have felt the impress of the moment.

In this volume we have sought to bring to life again the last of the first hundred years and preserve it in this manner for our future enjoyment.

If just one memory is stirred in future days when we glance at these pages—the endeavor of this 1940 Web will have been successful.

DEDICATION

BECAUSE we respect, admire, and love them for their unswerving loyalty and sincere dedication of their lives to the University;

BECAUSE of the inspiration and zeal they have instilled in us;

BECAUSE they represent the true spirit of tolerance, growth, and intelligence;

BECAUSE they are living examples of the spirit of the University, we, the staff of the 1940 Web feeling that we express the desires of the student body, feel honored in dedicating this volume to:

1840-1940

1840 WAS A GREAT YEAR in the history of the University of Richmond, for it was at that time that the Virginia General Assembly chartered Richmond College to replace the Virginia Baptist Seminary. Thus it was that the institution "cast aside the clothing of the infant Seminary and emerged into the full estate of manhood."

The Seminary, located at what is now the corner of Lombardy and Grace Streets, however, continued to function while the plans for the opening of the College were being made. Finally, in January, 1845, grounds and buildings, valued at $20,000.00; a library of seven hundred volumes, seven teachers, and sixty-eight students of which twenty-one were ministerial beneficiaries were transferred to the control of the Trustees of Richmond College.

At this time only freshman and sophomore courses were in the curriculum, but in 1845 a junior year was added and in 1848 the senior year. In 1849 the first degrees were conferred. At that time the degree of Bachelor of Arts was conferred upon Poindexter Smith Henson, the eloquent and inimitable gift of Virginia to the leading pulpits of Philadelphia, Chicago, New York, and Boston, and on Josiah Ryland, teacher, soldier, merchant and for years senior member of the Board of Trustees.

From 1850 to 1860 the College grew steadily, not only in size but also in the quality of its teaching and in public esteem. The average enrollment of students was approximately 121; the total graduates for this period sixty-eight. The endowment grew to seventy-five thousand dollars and thus made possible the erection of the north wing of the main building. Thus it was that the buildings, grounds, endowment, faculty, and scientific equipment, while seeming puny in the present day, compared very favorably with the other Virginia colleges of that period.

No sketch of the history of the University of Richmond would be complete without mention of Dr. Robert Ryland. It was he who in 1832 as the only teacher in the Seminary and as its president in the formative years that followed, formulated the policies and ideals that are still a part of the University. His great strength of character, high ideals, resoluteness of purpose and absolute unselfishness cause his rugged figure to stand out as a great educator and teacher. His influence abides.

The Civil War struck the College with devastating effect. Many of her most promising alumni and students were lost on the battlefields. Study was completely suspended, and when the tide of battle had surged past, all that was left of the school were a few defaced buildings, stripped of their contents. The library, endowments, and scientific equipment had all been swept ruthlessly away. To those who had nurtured the College this must have seemed to be the end of all their dreams, hopes, and ideals.

However, the spirit of the College was too strong to be crushed, and on October 1, 1866, thanks to the gifts of friends of the school, the doors were reopened, and classes resumed. At this time a Committee on Reorganization advanced five recommendations which were "radical and significant in the general field of education." The most important of these was that the English language was to be put on the same plane as the ancient and modern languages. Richmond College was the first to make this change in Virginia.

Steadily strength returned to the College until at the close of the nineteenth century the perpetuity of the College was reasonably certain. Due to the Herculean efforts on the part of the trustees enough money was obtained with which to erect new buildings.

The first addition was the building of a center structure for the original four-story edifice that faced Broad Street. On the first floor was the auditorium which seated some five hundred people. This building was completed upon the addition of the south wing some years later. Here was housed the library. When completed the whole structure had the shape of the letter H. Two cottages which served as dormitories were soon acquired and a little later a dining hall, known to the students as "The Hotel" was added. This was a step forward, for it reduced to a minimum the expenses of the resident students.

In the midst of the new buildings stood Columbia Hall, the original College building. Columbia, with its great rooms and halls, through whose doors many a college student for over one hundred years has passed, still proud and erect stands as a constant reminder of yesteryear in Virginia. It is the one remaining link between the old Seminary and the modern University.

As the school grew in this post-war period, two societies made their début on the campus, the Mu Sigma Rho and Philologian literary societies. The halls in which the societies met on Friday nights were well furnished with armchairs, rostra, rugs, curtains, and well selected libraries. Each society published a weekly paper, The Philologian Classic Gem and The Mu Sigma Rho Star. The publications were not printed but were handwritten.

This state of affairs could not continue; so one boy, who possessed a small printing press issued a modest sheet called The Mercury. This later gave way to Monthly Musings, a student publication with the motto: "Maiden Meditation, Fancy-Free." This periodical developed into The Richmond College Messenger.

The success of the literary societies prompted a few groups of students to form secret organizations. This move met with the disfavor of some of the friends and patrons of the College, but their objections were overcome and three fraternities appeared on the campus. They were Beta Theta Pi, Kappa Alpha, and Phi Delta Theta. Two of these organizations had halls on the fourth floor of the central building while the third one was located in the town.

One of the men who helped the College the most during the critical years that followed the Civil War was Dr. J. L. M. Curry. He first served the College as professor of English, Moral Philosophy, and lecturer on Law; later he became President of the Board of Trustees. A great educator and an equally great gentleman, Dr. Curry's name will forever stand as one of Richmond College's immortals.

Thus, as we approach 1895, we come to the close of an era in University of Richmond history, an era of hardship and privation through which the College could not have endured had it not been for the strength of the men who guided its destinies. Now, however, the worst was over; the College had survived; the coming era could only be one of prosperity in which the school would undergo many major changes.

In 1899 the Trustees of Richmond College voted to discontinue the policy, which had been in effect since 1865, of having the College administered by the chairman of the faculty, and voted instead to have a president. The Trustees decided that F. W. Boatwright was the best suited for the position. Mr. Boatwright enrolled as a student at the College in 1883, and had been awarded the Degree of Master of Arts in 1888. In 1899 he went abroad to study and at that time was selected for the chair of Modern Languages. On December 11, 1897, he was called to the Presidency and on January 1, 1898, he formally accepted, taking office on June 24 of that year.

"Columbia," now part of the Law School, was in 1834 the Main College Building.

The first thing that President Boatwright did was to campaign for enough money to erect a science building. In 1898 the building was completed and paid for. Soon after this he began raising money for a new dormitory to be situated on the Broad Street side of the campus, and this was erected in 1899. The success of these building campaigns, largely due to the new President's personal efforts, stands as a testimony to the vigor and wisdom of his administration.

In June of 1898 the Trustees voted to open the school's doors to women. The girls were required to be eighteen years old, or over, and to satisfy the President that they were fitted to enroll in at least three of a number of designated classes. They were to be eligible for all degrees, distinctions, and diplomas that the College offered. Four young women registered in the session that followed. From this modest start the number of women students grew steadily until 1914 when changes that took place in the policy of the institution, provided for Westhampton College.

In the years that followed 1895 public sentiment had grown in favor of a woman's college. The campaign for the new school was started in 1906 and extended to 1913. The General Education Board offered $150,000.00 towards the formation of the new school provided that it be matched with $350,000.00 raised from other sources. Dr. B. C. Henning began the task of acquiring the funds but was forced to resign in December of 1911. President Boatwright thereupon took up the campaign and completed it. This fund made the building of Westhampton College possible.

Prior to this, however, the Trustees of Richmond College had been pondering over the problem of expanding the institution with opinion divided as to whether or not the location should be changed. In 1910 it was decided to move the school to Westhampton on two hundred ninety-three acres of property, one hundred of which had been given to the College outright.

At this time the Trustees provided for an autonomous Woman's College to be erected on the new campus. This plan of coördinate education was adopted, since many Virginians were opposed as to co-education.

In the fall of 1914 the colleges occupied the new site and opened for work. It seemed that Fate must have been against this move because for the second time in the school's history a war dealt it a devastating blow. The Trustees had depended on financing the new enterprise by selling the old campus, but the World War caused real estate prices to drop so low that the land could not be sold for a reasonable sum. Thus, the school for the first time was heavily in debt.

After America entered the war, the government, in 1918, took over the new campus and used it as a hospital. This forced the College back to its old site where it remained until the Armistice when it returned to Westhampton.

With the return of peace the price of land rose again, thus making possible the sale of the valuable old property. The revenue from this paid off the principal and interest on the University's debts and provided sufficient funds to finance the erection of the Chemistry Building. Once again the future looked bright for the University.

As the first hundred years draw to a close, plans are already under way for a greater University. The proposed Student Activities Building is no longer a dream but instead is fast approaching reality. May Richmond further herself as much in the next century as she did in the last.

CLASSES

We, the Richmond College Seniors, will never forget . . .

"WHAT IS A FRESHMAN?" "How is the cow?" "The V. C. will meet tonight and you are cordially invited." "Off the grass, freshman." "Come along with us, freshman, we Eta Bita Pi's will see that you get the right profs and that no soph will molest you." Rat Parade. Pajama Parade. Barn fire. Elections and first politics. William and Mary 0, U. of R. 6. Away with rat caps. Kay Keyser.

Our glorious soph year. "Hey, Freshman." President Stoneburner goes in the lake. A great dance sponsored by us and the freshmen. Ed Merrick stars on the football team. "Stookie" Hoskins gets up a protective agency for the freshmen. Strange goings on in the playhouse sponsored by Saunier, Maner, Brandis and company. The show must go on, however, and so while "Bo" Gillette was winning presidency of our Junior class over in the playhouse Carlson Thomas was showing Prof. some real acting. Examinations were still feared but not with the same fear that came our freshman year. Hal Kemp.

Junior year—Hoskins on the freshmen. What kids the freshmen seemed. Frank Crouch and Donald Murrill become synonymous with the Physics department. Merrick equals football and becomes a southern gentleman. Cornwall and Flossie. Saunier and Wiley. The S.A.E.'s and P.D.T.'s in full swing again. Intramural competition hotter than ever. Gillette and the prom. The kiss. Hal Kemp. William and Mary loses again. Burge, Hoskins, and Ely on the basketball squad. Bill ReMine and Politics. Noffsinger and Politics. Abernethy and Politics. Stoneburner vs. ReMine. Dickinson vs. Abeloff. State baseball champs. Jordan takes the Collegian.

Our senior year. President Dickinson. President of Student Government ReMine. President of O.D.K. Saunier. Politics, dances, athletics, editorials, dates, trips, meetings, and, yes, classes also. Saunier and campus reforms. Student government catches h - - - from the Collegian. Collegian also catches h - - - from Student Government. Chapel. Processions. We file applications for degrees. The Skrontch society becomes mature. Campus carnival again bigger and better than ever. Idiot's Delight. Union blacklist and Tutwiler. Coöperative party vs. Progressive again. The value of good publicity. Brandis and Mary. One hundredth anniversary. Baggs, Moore, and Tutwiler sell ads. Jordan, Bass, and Farber get gray hair. Younts, Kervan, Dickinson, and Abernethy vs. Neasmith. Watts and the water carnival. Siegal takes the debate team to Florida. Maner and surrealism. Whitlatch and Loving overshadow Whitlatch and University Players. See Bruno. Vaughan the strikeout king. Phi Betas—Bass, Brandis, Ende, Frederickson, Jones, Jordan, Morton, Noffsinger, Sanger, Stoneburner, Siegel. Graduation night.

To remember after four years at Westhampton . . .

"FRESHMAN! Say hello!" "Are you a Westhampton girl too?" "Upperclassmen first!" Doors to hold, long lines of Sophomores passing. "Water, Freshman!" "Very important Freshman class meeting" and Tommie looking stern. "Freshmen should be respectful." "May I go through the Front Arch?" Annabel Lumpkin heading the class. Big sisters. Kiddie Party—Alys as Donald Duck. Rat Night—and dozens of Senior names to learn. Submath or else. Song Contest, and millions of words to learn. "Do the girls cut on the boys? Gosh!" Lantern Night. Commencement—"Will we ever be Seniors?" We won the Mortar Board Cup.

"So Sophomores have privileges." "Hey, Freshman, watch it!" Doors held for us. Song Contest, and victory for us. Color Organ—"but where can we have it?" Mildred James at the helm and Mary Sue to pester the Freshmen. Dates on Wednesday nights—whee! May Day Co-ed—yards and yards of flowers. Queen's Room for Alice. And then the Daisy Chain, beginning at four A.M. Miles and miles of daisies. "Chief says fill the truck." "Just tie them on"—but not so easy. Wearing white, Big Sisters in caps and gowns—Daisy Chain pillars. Again the Mortar Board Cup, Commencement—Big Sisters graduating.

As Juniors we felt pretty old and dignified. The class had really become a unit, too. Little Sisters of our own. Plans for the glorious prom—Committee meetings till midnight. Junior-Freshman Wedding. And the Prom—an Ice Carnival! "Susie" queening it among the icicles. "How can you paint a tree white?" President Mary Sue Carter, small package, dynamite. May Day and the archery contest. Commencement time—"Golly! It'll be us next year!" Final Co-ed—Art of Tomorrow, the World's Fair theme gone haywire. Mortar Board tappings—Mildred James, Mabel Leigh Rooke, Marie Keyser, Alice McElroy, Mary Sue Carter, Dell Williams—solemn candlelight. Senior seats in Chapel. Politics in the air—"Who will be Chairman, and President?" And goodbye to Senior friends.

Seniors at last. Caps and Gowns for Chapel, first Academic Procession. Senior Show plans—Sit 'n' Bull it was. May Day all year round—casting and chorus in the fall. President Dell Williams, Annabel Student Government President, Mary Sue Chairman of Honor Council. Mary Sue as a puppet. Diamonds and fraternity pins popping up. TKA taps two, PBK six. PDE conference. Jobs, jobs, who's got 'em? May Day—Queen Kitty Wicker. And the Greek Play—our hopes at last. King Saddye Thoas and his wig and beard! "Pray for sunshine!" Last Chapel—Seniors with rosebuds—"Where, oh, where are the stately Seniors?" Exams—for the last time—imagine! Teas, Luncheons, the Garden Party, invitations, presents—and Commencement. "This time it really is we who are leaving." "Was it really four years?"

IN MEMORIAM

CHARLES TALMAGE HALLOWELL

ATLANTIC CITY, NEW JERSEY

August 21, 1915 February 12, 1938

JUNIOR CLASS

HISTORY, BY ITS NATURE, is a complex blending of events and memories whose design might be compared to the mosaic—the pattern never completed. Each separate and distinct part has a niche equally important to the others. The tesserae of the Class of 1941 are but added colors to the changing patterns, and yet to the class of '41 will seem the most apparent portion, since it is their very life.

With three eventful years completed, the class of 1941 looks ahead to the final year of its college career. This past year has been successful in every way. The officers of the Richmond College Junior Class were: James Turkington, President; Edgar Garber, Vice-President; Thomas McVay, Secretary; Leon Alexander, Treasurer; and Bill Fitzhugh, Class Senator. At Westhampton College, under the able guidance of Margaret Forrer as President; Jeannette Evans as Vice-President; Louise Morrissey as Secretary; and Jane Trevett as Treasurer, they had a very fine year.

The outstanding event for any Junior class is, of course, its Prom, and this year's dance was one of the best of the season. It was held in Milhiser Gymnasium, while the Westhampton Junior Prom was held in the Westhampton Student Activities Building.

Members of the Class of '41 have been outstanding in every phase of campus activities. A large number made Intermediate Honors for scholastic excellence. Many were elected into honorary organizations such as Tau Kappa Alpha, Mortar Board, Pi Delta Epsilon, and Omicron Delta Kappa.

The opening scene of the year portrayed snatches of summer vacation, new schemes—clever ideas—Freshmen—questions—flustered Juniors—incorrect answers and introductions. Then a lull, followed by dances and examinations, gaiety and grinding. Then spring—summer plans—and another year passes.

The workmanship of '41 is not yet completed. The value of the experiences of the past must meet its test by the trials of the future. The full design of the mosaic must be realized—the finish made to glisten. One more year in which to realize dreams and add new color to the pattern we are fashioning.

THE SOPHOMORE CLASS

WE, SOPHOMORES of the University of Richmond, felt upon our entrance into our second year of life here that peculiar surge of freedom and unbounded authority which was to distinguish us in both outlook and action from the bewildered "rats" of the preceding year. Not only did the realization of the fact that our period of subordination had been completed add fire to the flames of satisfaction, but the fact that we had graduated from the ranks of the Frosh gave us the opportunity to enjoy the distinct privilege of administering our authority on another group of neophytes. We wasted not the slightest opportunity, and the "rats" began to experience the privation of the freedom we felt should be denied.

Under the leadership of President Henry Garnett, Vice-President Bert Milling, Treasurer Mark Willing, Secretary Dick Klaffky, and Senator Frank Baker of Richmond College, and President Elsa Keen, Vice-President Louise Sheffield, Secretary Norma Palmer, and Treasurer Betty Ann Petsinger we had a successful year of activities. The annual "Pajama Parade" of Richmond Frosh cannot be forgotten by any of our number. We, of Richmond, cannot overlook the bruises we received at the hands of the Freshmen in the Frosh-Soph "free-for-all" that followed the parade, nor can we fail to remember the gala Centennial Dance which we sponsored with the aid of the first-year students.

We, of Westhampton, had an active year, not only scholastically but socially as well. Ours was the honor of sponsoring the May Day dance. Our year finally culminated with the early morning daisy picking and the all-day job of making the daisy chain that we carried with our "big sisters" at graduation.

As we finish our second year and graduate into the last half of our college experience, we do so with the knowledge that we have fulfilled the aim that this year should be one of happiness and accomplishment. Four of our number received recognition by election to Tau Kappa Alpha, and many have been honored in campus activities. This Sophomore year, we naturally leave with reluctance but in accordance with our desires and attitude, we look forward to even greater accomplishment in the years to come.

FRESHMAN CLASS

ONCE MORE THE "PINE-CLAD HILLS" of Alma Mater were looking down on a new Freshman Class. It was the beginning of Orientation Week in September, 1939, and a new class was just setting out to learn of the customs, activities, rules, and organizations of the University of Richmond. Physical and mental exams of all kinds were taken. Lectures, discussions, and sermons were listened to attentively.

Another Freshman memory of that premature "Hell Week" at Richmond College was the mighty striving and straining of the various fraternities to give him a better time than the others. This occupation was appropriately called "rushing." Every "rat" came close to being torn to pieces many times as he stepped from the Playhouse door.

On the Westhampton side of our fair University, the sister "rats" were receiving their "big sisters." The attempt was made to keep them in their place by the worldly Sophomores and each "rat" was given a card with her name inscribed upon it. Also, a set of rules and regulations had been prescribed which were religiously (?) observed by all.

The dreaded Vigilante Committee was soon functioning with deadly precision in cleaning out the Rat Trap and administering justice to those requiring it at Richmond College.

And then one night in early October an innocent pedestrian was knocked down and trampled upon by a stream of gaudily clad figures carrying torches and running all over creation. It was the Pajama Parade. After the entertainment put on by the "rats," they faced the Sophomores in a bag fight. The riot which ensued was horrible to behold. They say the "rats" won, but some are doubtful to this day. The Richmond Rat Parade before the Citadel game was another highly successful affair run off without a hitch by the rats' only "friends," the Sophomores.

Proclamation time had come on the other side of the lake and at last the rats were rats no longer. In the impressive Candlelight Service presented by the Y.W.C.A. and the Senior Class, the girls were formally received as members of the College. The traditional tree-planting ceremony was another event of importance. The class gave twelve pink dogwood trees which were set around the new Student Activities Building as well as several clumps of the wisteria vine.

The year is all over now, and the members of the Class of 1943 are beginning at last to realize their love for our Alma Mater, and they are looking forward through what seems to be countless ages to the day when they will don the cap and gown and leave her "pine-clad hills" forever.

1840 LAW SCHOOL 1940

STUDENT BAR

When the ghosts of Law School pleasures haunt the mansions of the mind there comes to the front immediately—the University of Richmond Student Bar. Quite a recent innovation in student life here, this organization has already begun to assume such proportions in importance that there is a wonder why the likes of it were not in existence before the fall of 1939.

William Goode, President

Replacing the "Student Government Association" which was the original student self-governing body here and which was organized years ago largely through the efforts of our illustrious Dean M.R.D., the Student Bar is patterned after the Virginia State Bar and the Virginia State Bar Association, the leading legal groups of the Commonwealth. Whereas the now obsolete SGA followed the time honored theory of balance of powers between judicial, legislative, and executive, the new constitution—which in the student elections was adapted with but one dissenting vote, now accredited to a possible remaining, ever-hopeful member of the defunct "Ryland political faction" which died a natural death last year—places the vast weight of power in a council, part in executive officers, still less in a court. The attempt is to change the entire emphasis of student life toward more pre-professional standards.

Headed by blond, potentatous William Shakespeare Goode who hails from the mountains of Clifton Forge, a movement early last summer took the initiative to change the student government to a form which aims as stated in the new constitution, "to mold the student mind into channels of thought" appropriate to future membership in the profession, "to teach a consideration of individual honor and integrity as essentials of the legal profession," and "to promote a spirit of mutual fellowship" among its members. Aided by the ever willing assistance of Dean Doubles, the old Senate, the present Council, drew the final draft of a work which has since received compliments from some of the highest of legal sources. Student Bar membership is comprised of active, associate, and honorary classes. The active members are the students. Associate membership is made up of the faculty and those interested alumni who have made application. Honorary members are any other persons associated with the legal profession who shall have been elected into membership by the Council.

Abram Staples, Vice-President

Membership is divided into three judicial circuits and from each of these circuits is elected one-third (two members) of the Council. In the write-ups under the individual pictures on the following pages, these circuits are noted. The Council, in which is vested most of the power of the Bar, makes laws, ratifies appointments to the court, sets the amount of dues, allocates funds, calls elections, promulgates canons of student ethics, recommends publications representatives, and exercises necessary powers to: (1) cultivate and advance the science of jurisprudence, (2) encourage better education for profession membership, (3) promote a spirit of cordiality and brotherhood among members, and (4) uphold and elevate standards of honor, integrity, and courtesy of the profession. The first person to preside over such a Council is "vice Abe" Staples, whose rules of parliamentary procedure are far from the nature of a lost art. Not the least of the Council powers is the appointment of the Grievance Committee. This committee consists of three persons, one from each judicial circuit, and investigates complaints of unethical conduct on the part of members, prosecuting the more serious charges before the Court.

The Court consists of five justices appointed by the president, confirmed by the Council. Serious violations of ethics and points of constitutionality of laws are within jurisdiction of the court. For the session now ending the court was "chief-justiced" by James William (McNeill) Fletcher, who has enjoyed the privileged concurrence of "Sam," "Flash," "Bud," and "Snake."

In early May of each year the annual meeting of the Student Bar is held at which time various reports are presented to full membership, and new officers for the ensuing year take oaths.

Not all of the activities of the Student Bar are of so serious a nature as those elucidated upon this far. (On the other hand the word "bar" in the title is by all means to be distinguished from any lay use of the word.) It being felt that a student can many times do his best when facilities for mild recreation are close at hand, the Student Bar maintains a recreation room in the basement of the school. Therein are pool and card tables, lounging furniture. Daily papers are furnished and the room is equipped with radio. "Professor" Becker and his assistant Flavius have done remarkable jobs in improving the pool shooting of the entire student body in this department.

A series of formal dances and a series of informal smokers are also sponsored by the Student Bar with an object of improving fellowship among students, faculty, and alumni. The aspired results are generally had. Speakers are brought to the school under its sponsorship and much has been gained by the embryonic legal mind from these talks on topics of current interest in the judicial field.

No account of this year's activities would be complete without mention of Law Editor Parker Brown who gave the school one of its two tropical days experienced during the January-February cold spell, by importing a heat wave in form of a photographer's representative who talked over problems of retouching with the boys. The other warm spell came during the mid-winter exam in Smither's "The Great A & P," when Columbia Annex played host to a "fireman's holiday."

All in all the session has been quite eventful in this "integral part of the University" and no doubt many fine judges and lawyers will be reminiscent in years to come by pointing to the following pictures with a "Yes, Junior; that's your Pop!"

Class of 1940

WRIT OF HABEAS CORPUS AD SUBJICIENDUM

To the Honorable Frederick W. Boatwright, President of the University of Richmond:

YOUR PETITIONERS, the members of the Senior Class of the University of Richmond Law School, respectfully show that they are unlawfully imprisoned, detained, confined, and restrained of their liberty by M. Ray Doubles, Dean of the University of Richmond Law School, and Frances Farmer, Keeper and custodian of the records of said school, in the City of Richmond, in the State of Virginia; that the imprisonment, detention, confinement, and restraint are illegal, and that the illegality thereof consists in this, to-wit: That the only pretext or cause of such detention is examinations, formulated by the faculty and issued out of the Dean's office of said school, which your petitioners were required to pass successfully. This requirement, and each and every and all other divers and sundry requirements, rules, regulations, standards, requisites and conditions have been wholly, completely and satisfactorily complied with. In restraining your petitioners' liberty by withholding our Bachelor of Law degrees, for which there is no authority of law or reason, your petitioners will be greatly aggrieved, damaged and embarrassed, both financially and socially, as a large sum of money has been invested to make possible our purpose, and three long years of hard labor have been diligently spent within well defined boundaries and under the rigid supervision of the faculty.

Ignoring, now, the man-made laws that our faculty has so nobly and patiently drilled into our thick heads, we appeal to the laws of natural justice, of fairness and equity. After our long struggle and valid efforts to understand and master an aliquot part of the law and to solve the problems that arise, some of which seem incomprehensible and have caused many of your petitioners to fall by the wayside and have turned others from carefree infants to aged adults, we plead, implore, beseech and beg that no flaw be found that will detain us at this time on a technicality.

Wherefore, your petitioners pray that a writ of habeas corpus ad subjiciendum may be granted, directed to the said M. Ray Doubles, commanding him to appear before your honorable court and authorize the granting of our Bachelor of Law degrees, as a symbol of our liberty, on Commencement Day, June 11, 1940, and that the same be there delivered, and the petitioners be restored to their liberty.

THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1940.
Petitioners.

Class of 1941

WE, THE CLASS OF NINETEEN HUNDRED AND FORTY-ONE, of the University of Richmond Law School, in the City of Richmond, being duly sworn upon oath, do depose and say as follows, to the best of our knowledge and belief:

That on the Twelfth day of September, nineteen hundred and thirty-eight we journeyed to Richmond and there enrolled in the University of Richmond Law School. Throughout the ensuing year we did pursue the law with diligence, though never seeming to be able to pass it en masse. Then late in May we laid aside our books and went home for the summer. The three months that followed were given to reflection and when once again we met in September there was a new spirit—indeed, a new approach.

Then did we let it be known to all that the Class of 1941, in the exercise of its own untrammeled will, had determined the true path of the legal heights. To us it had been shown that the way to success consisted not in slavish devotion to the Law as a Goddess of Books. For a year had we wooed and pursued her with the ardour born of inspiration to find upon touching the train of her garment that she, too, was of the world. Wherefore it was resolved that from thenceforth the ever-receding goal should be a practical knowledge of the ways of our chosen Mistress.

And who can forget the by-ways into which our search has led us that we might better use our learning on leaving these wisdom-steeped halls? True, our sallies into the outer world were not made with a singleness of purpose that was complete. For some Police Court Practice had a fatal fascination. Others sought the dignity of the Supreme Court. For some the click of the pool balls was the music of the Sirens. Others found the music of Murphy's fell more sweetly on the ear.

January and examinations, however, brought us up with a start and made us acutely aware that the pendulum had swung too far. However we lost none of our members in the usual February exodus. Perhaps this result was achieved by our splendid display of the knowledge we had gleaned during the past four months; perhaps as a result of the suspension of the automatic rule. But which is the true reason is a speculation into which this group does not deem it wise to enter.

Now work is upon us again for with the Bar Exam ahead we tread once more a narrow path—more serious, perhaps, but truly more worldly wise.

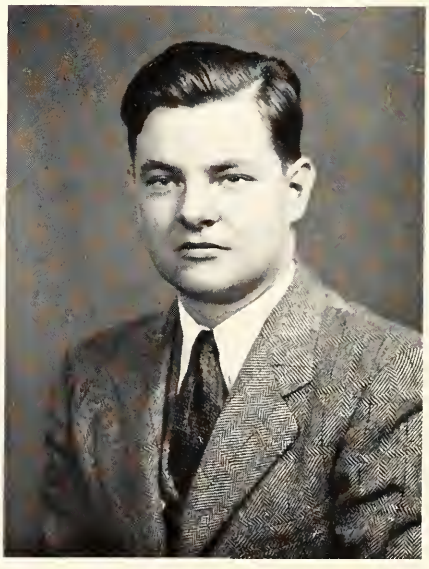
The Class of 1942



WOULD THAT WE COULD SAY as Cæsar said: "We came, We saw, We conquered." Such alas, is not the case—we came, we saw, we hope.

This year began as most years do. We enrolled with high hopes and great ambitions. Our first few weeks were pretty confusing, and it was only when we attended the "Smoker," meeting our fellow students and smoking free cigars, that our law career really appealed to us. The long days of Contracts, Torts and Crimes were finally interrupted by our first Law School Dance, and from then on we were properly authorized to say we were members of the Law School. Now initiated, we again ploughed relentlessly through our studies. Then came our first practice in taking examinations, and we resolved forthwith to do better or else. (We didn't know what else, but it could have been no worse than the grades we received.)

The merry chase went on. It was merry for the professors and a chase for us. We had heretofores and whereupons, and the plaintiff pleads while the defendant demurs from morning until night. Then just as the light was beginning to break, came Christmas and the holidays were upon us.

We came back to a different school. Everyone, even the seniors, was studying to get ready for examinations. And get ready we did and we took the exams. But on this long journey, sad to relate, some of our members dropped from the scene and we were forced to go on without them. When the smoke had cleared away we found that none of the survivors were badly damaged, and with several additions to our group we determinedly resumed our fight with the law.

Many are the outstanding gentlemen of our class. Among them the old "Jedge" and the "Bold Barrister" must take their places in our memories as loyal lawyers. There, too, will be the sixth and one-half Baronet, whom we shall never forget as the true historian of England, America, and the Confederate States of America. There also were the boys from the backwoods and many others of great and sterling worth, but space does not allow their naming other than as good fellows and loyal companions.

Above all, we wish to thank the members of the second and third year classes, and particularly President William S. Goode, for their help in guiding us in studious ways.

FOOTBALL

LED BY CAPTAIN ED MERRICK, the University of Richmond's 1939 football team compiled one of the best records in the athletic history of the institution. When the last contest on the ten-game schedule was written into the books, the Spider record showed seven victories, two ties and only one defeat for the 1939 season.

Only by the slimmest of margins were the Spiders robbed of the distinction of being the only undefeated team in University of Richmond history. A backfield, riddled by injuries, spelled the difference, and the William and Mary Indians eked out a one-touchdown victory in the tenth and final game of the season. Edwin Joel Merrick, gained for himself a permanent place among the Spider football immortals by his brilliant play at center and his great abilities as a leader. Together with Bill Burge, senior end, Merrick gained further honors by being selected on the ALL-STATE team. A week later it was announced that Merrick had also been selected on the ALL-SOUTHERN team.

Richmond 37—Apprentice School 0

The Spiders opened the season by trouncing the Shipbuilders, 37 to 0. Arthur Jones, brilliant halfback, was the first to score, crossing the goal in the first quarter.

Bill Burge snagged a pass from Jones to set up another score, this time by fullback Eddie Bragg, who plowed through the line for the second tally. Alec Moore fired a pass to Bill Burge that was good for another score. After a long run by Moore, Bill Fitzhugh plunged through for the Spiders' fourth six-pointer.

Moose Faris, substituting at center for Merrick, intercepted a pass in the fourth quarter and scampered 34 yards to the goal. The honor of scoring the last touchdown went to Jack Powers, who ran back a punt to the two-yard line and then took it across on the next play. Lem Fitzgerald added the only extra point of the game.

Richmond 26—Randolph-Macon 0

The Richmond gridders added the Yellow Jackets of Randolph-Macon to their victory list, by burying them under a 26 to 0 score. In the first half, Alec Moore and Jack Powers alternated in carrying the ball to the two-yard line, and from that point Powers took it over for the score. Burge added the extra point, making it 7 to 0.

After the intermission, Jones, behind beautiful blocking, swept around end for 47 yards. Two short gains by Jones and Powers and a pass to Burge set it up for Jones to dive through the middle for the second tally. In the same period, Stukie Hoskins, on a beautiful reverse around end crossed the goal standing up, after a great run of 34 yards. Jones made the extra point, making it 20 to 0. The recovery of a fumble by Bill Terry preceded a final tally by Jones.

The defensive stars of the game were Merrick at center, Hal McVay at tackle and Enders Dickinson at guard.

Richmond 7—Washington & Lee 0

The Spider machine almost struck a snag at Lexington, but a stubborn defense and a spectacular third period offense spelled victory for the Richmonders by a 7 to 0 margin. After playing a purely defensive game in the first half, the Spiders came back after the second half whistle to completely turn the tables on the bewildered Generals.

It was the Moore to Burge combination that led the Spiders to their winning touchdown. The Richmonders began to move with a 25-yard pass by Moore that was snagged by Burge on the Generals' 21-yard line. Two plays later Moore shot a low aerial to Burge, who fell over the goal with the ball safely tucked away. Moore's placement was good and the Spiders led, 7 to 0.

Richmond 6—Rutgers 6

Never willing to accept defeat, the old Richmond fighting spirit brought the Spiders from behind in the closing minutes of the ball game at New Brunswick, New Jersey to tie the heavy

Bruce Van Buskirk

Rutgers eleven, 6 to 6. Greatly outweighed by the men of Rutgers, the entire Spider team played a brilliant, hard-fought game.

After playing the heavy Scarlet team to a stalemate for more than three and a half quarters, the Richmonders saw the Northerners push across a heart-breaking touchdown in the last three minutes of the game, to go out in front, 6 to 0. The score was made by the aerial route.

Captain Merrick then called a huddle and gave the boys a pep talk. With about a minute and a half to go, Rutgers kicked off. Moore, taking it on his ten, moved ten yards up the left side of the field. Then he reversed to Arthur Jones, who set sail for the right side of the field and was finally stopped on the 46-yard line. Moore then tossed a pass to Jones on the Rutgers forty. Three Spider passes then fell incomplete, time was almost out, and it was last down for the Red and Blue.

While the small band of Richmond supporters eyed the clock anxiously, the Spiders came out of their huddle and up to the line of scrimmage. Jones then snagged a pretty pass from Moore on the Rutgers ten and raced over the goal, unmolested, tying the score at 6-all. The try for the extra point was blocked, and the game was over.

Captain Merrick and Hal McVay were powerhouses in the line, and were important factors in Richmond's moral victory.

Richmond 21—Gettysburg 0

The Spiders bounced back into the win column the following week, when they downed the Gettysburg Bullets at the City Stadium, 21 to 0.

The first quarter was seesaw affair with neither side making any serious threats. Following a punt return to midfield, Jones completed a pass to Dick Humbert that was good for 20 yards. Alec Moore then sliced through tackle and broke into the clear, racing 28 yards for a touchdown. Moore converted.

Two minutes later, Humbert gathered in a pass from Moore on the twenty and dashed over for another tally. A 33-yard smash through center by Stukie Hoskins had set up the scoring play. Moore again converted. Ned Butcher scored the final tally, catching a pass in the end zone from Jones. Bill Burge made the extra point.

Richmond 19—The Citadel 0

Displaying an air-tight defense against the highly respected aerial attack of the visitors, the Spiders turned back the Citadel eleven 19 to 0. The great work of the Spider line, with Merrick and sophomore Bert Milling doing an outstanding job, resulted in a complete failure of the Soldiers' passing attack.

Richmond turned the tables on the Citadellians by taking to the air for their first score, a pass from Moore to Burge in the end zone. The conversion was good. In the third quarter Ned Butcher intercepted a pass and galloped 60 yards to score. Hoskins accounted for the third tally with a 13-yard dash through center.

Butcher was the outstanding ground gainer, getting 78 yards in eight tries.

Richmond 0—Virginia Military Institute 0

With the state title hanging in the balance, the Spiders and the Keydets of VMI struggled up and down the field for four scoreless quarters before the final gun sounded, ending one of the most important games in the state. Despite the pouring rain that fell during a greater portion of the game, an overflow crowd of 15,000, the second largest in Spider football history, watched the battle.

Due to the rain the dangerous passing attack of the Spiders was bogged down, and the slippery ground prevented anything but straight football. In the first period the Richmonders penetrated to the Keydet five-yard line before they were stopped. A few minutes later Stukie Hoskins tried a field goal that was wide by about a foot.

Once in the third period and again in the last, the VMI captain called for a field goal. The try from the twenty-five was blocked by Bill Burge, and a second attempt was very short. In the sea of mud the fast running backs of both teams were unable to break away and passing was out of the question.

Bill Burge played one of the outstanding games of his career at left end for the Spiders. He broke up every play that came his way, and on the end sweeps he cut in behind the interference to smear the ball carrier consistently. Less than three yards were gained around his end all day. The entire Richmond line came in for the highest praise.

Richmond 13—V.P.I. 0

For the benefit of the Gobblers the aerial attack of the Spiders was demonstrated in all its effectiveness, and, when the air raid was over, the Richmonders had collected two touchdowns and an extra point to win, 13 to 0.

Burge, rapidly taking a place among the state's leading scorers, was on the receiving end of both touchdown passes. Setting up the first score, Dick Humbert recovered a VPI fumble on their 33-yard line. Hoskins picked up twelve yards. Moore then faded back and shot a high pass to Burge who took it on the three and went over for six points. Hoskins converted.

In the final period, Gordon ReMine, a sophomore back, got 14 yards on two end sweeps. Jones then fired another high pass to Burge, who took it between two Gobblers on the seven and scampered over the goal.

A serious VPI threat was stopped when Burge recovered a Gobbler fumble on our 15. In the backfield Hoskins, for his ground-gaining, and Jones, for his perfect punting, were outstanding.

Richmond 26—Hampden-Sydney 7

Scoring four touchdowns in the first half, the Red and Blue gridders took the Hampden-Sydney Tigers in stride and administered a 26 to 7 defeat.

Jack Powers

Early in the first period, Jones let fly a pass that was deflected into the arms of Gordon ReMine who scored. Stu Hoskins converted. One minute passed and then Jones returned a Tiger punt 60 yards for another six-pointer. Still another tally was added in this period, when Burge, rushing the passer, managed to hit the ball and, after juggling it a moment set sail for the goal, making a 35-yard run.

The fourth tally came in the second quarter and was provided by Coach Thistlethwaite's midget backs. Sonny Wholey passed to Lem Fitzgerald on the five, and it was no trouble at all.

Richmond 0—William and Mary 7

With a good portion of their backfield, either out with injuries or hobbling about on one good leg, the Spiders lacked the necessary punch to push over a touchdown and the Richmonders went down in defeat before a scrappy Indian team, 7 to 0.

Jones, star halfback, was out with a leg injury, as was also Eddie Bragg, blocking back. Ned

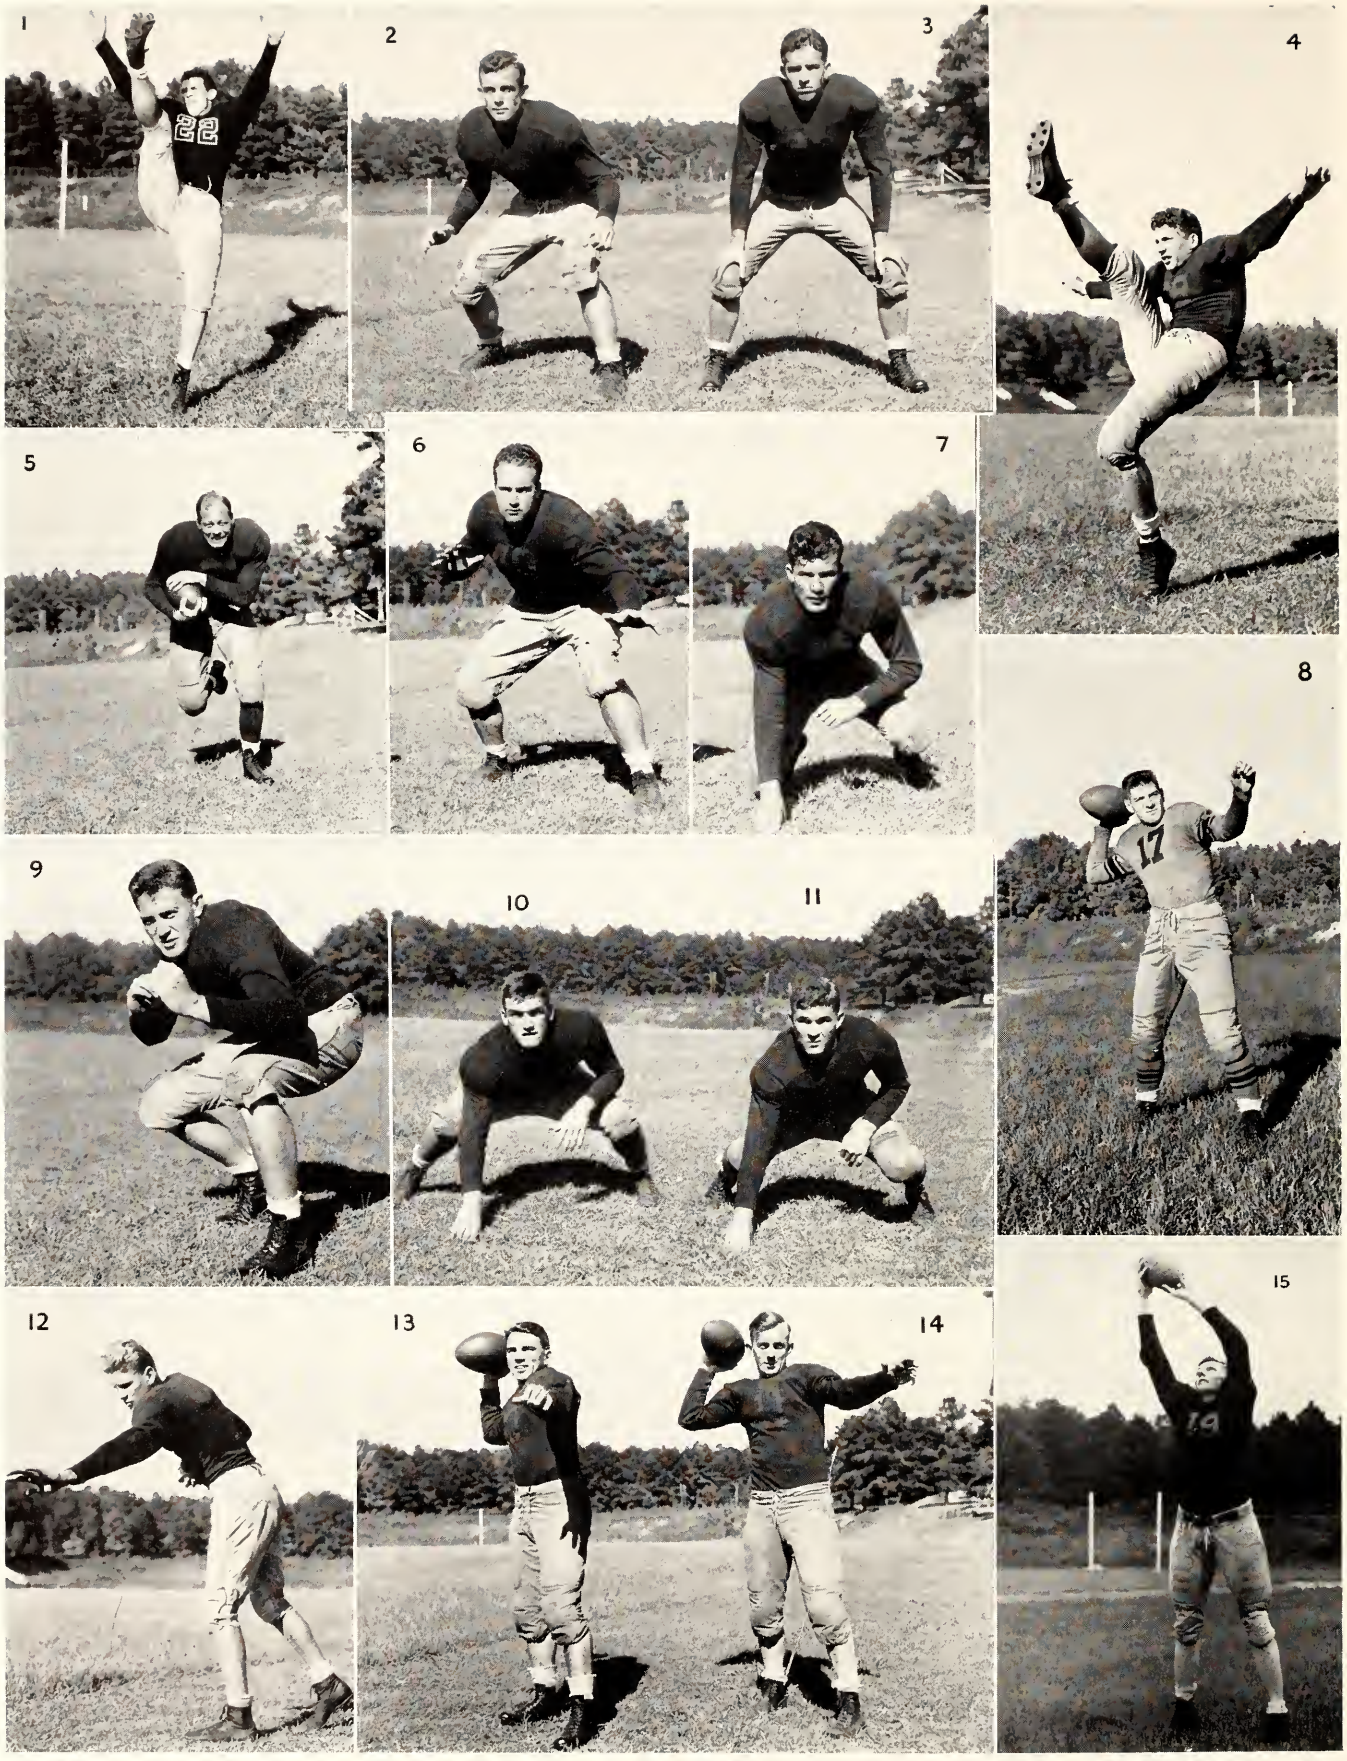
Ed Sinar

Butcher, another dependable back, had a bad leg. Three times the Spiders penetrated within the six-yard line of the Indians, but the climax plays did not develop, and the thrust was stopped.

After the half the Indians took the ball and drove down the field to a touchdown, never losing possession. Jimmy Howard scored, Matthews converted, and the Spiders were trailing in their last game of the season.

Seven points behind, the Richmonders threatened once again, when Bill Burge took a long pass from Moore and lateraled to Sonny Wholey, who was downed on the Indian eight. The Spiders again could not generate the spark to put it over.

With the end of the William & Mary game came the end of the college football careers of ten Richmond seniors. They are Ed Merrick, Bill Burge, Bill Robinson, Stuart Hoskins, Enders Dickinson, Ed Sinar, Wilson Faris, Ed Bragg, Bruce Van Buskirk and Jack Powers.



1. Alex Moore; 2. Dave Robertson; 3. "Coxie" Bowen; 4. "Afie" Jones; 5. Bill Fitzhugh; 6. "Bull" McVay; 7. Clint Moore; 8. Ned Butcher; 9. Dick Cash; 10. Joe Mack; 11. Bert Milling; 12. Gordon ReMine; 13. Lem Fitzgerald; 14. "Sonny" Wholey; 15. Dick Humbert.

BASKETBALL

Coach Malcolm U. Pitt

UNDER THE LEADERSHIP of Captain Stukie Hoskins, Coach Pitt's 1939-40 basketball squad compiled a better than average record, winning eleven games and dropping only five in their regular schedule. The Spiders finished third in the state ratings, trailing Washington and Lee and Virginia, both of whom suffered losses at the hands of the Pittmen. At the close of the season the Pittmen found themselves in seventh place in the Southern Conference standings, which automatically gave them a berth in the annual tournament at Raleigh.

In the pairings for the Southern Conference Tournament, the Spiders drew Wake Forest in the opening game. After leading the Deacons for all but four minutes of the game, the Pittmen saw their Carolina opponents "get hot" and put on a rally that defeated the Red and Blue by a 40 to 34 score. The Spiders played one of their best games of the year and really put a smooth-working combination on the boards.

In their opening game of the season, the Richmonders easily defeated the visiting Hampden-

Sydney five, 46 to 22, to begin their campaign in fine style. Bill Burge and Jimmy Ely starred for the home team racking up 28 points between them. Next victim on the list was Davidson whom the Spiders narrowly defeated, 33 to 32, by virtue of Captain Hoskins' last-second field goal. In their last game before the Christmas holidays the Pittmen made it three straight with a smashing 45 to 11 victory over the Yellow Jackets. Burge was high scorer in each of the three contests.

Getting back in action after the intermission, Coach Pitt's aggregation met the vaunted William & Mary quint at Millhiser Gym and upheld the tradition of winning on their home court by staving off an Indian rally to come out on the big end of a 35 to 33 score. Burge was again high for the Spiders with ten points and Seabury Stoneburner turned in a good floor game. Going on the road for the first time, the team seemed to miss the old Spider cheering section and played listless ball to lose by a margin of 16 points, the score being 35 to 19. Two substitutes, Arthur Jones and Mac Pitt, Jr. were high for Richmond with six points each.

The Spiders snapped out of it the following week, however, and trounced the Randolph-Macon five at Ashland, 39 to 19, with Eddie Bragg and Bill Burge leading the way. In the two games with VPI the Richmonders were selfish, and refused to give up either of them. The first encounter played here was a thrilling nip and tuck game which the Spiders finally won, 41 to 39. In the last six seconds of the game Eddie Bragg stole the ball from DeMuro, Tech guard, and dribbled in for the lay-up shot that was the margin of victory. Captain Hoskins and Dick Humbert were top men with 11 points each.

The second Gobbler game was the first in a four-game series of out-of-town games for the Red and Blue. Captain Hoskins sparked the team, tossing in seven field goals for 14 points, to a well-earned 41 to 32 win. The following night the traveling Richmond team played a return game with the Hampden-Sydney Tigers, finding them a little harder to beat this time, but finally gaining a five point victory, aided by Hoskins with 10 points and Ely with nine.

Next on the schedule was the Lexington trip which was all but disastrous to the Spiders' hopes of winning a tournament berth. The first engagement was lost to the VMI Keydets, 28 to 26, in a seesaw affair. The only bright spot was the brilliant showing of Dick Humbert, who led the scorers with 13 points. The Pittmen were downed the following night by the Generals for their second loss in a row, losing 37 to 23, in a fast game. The defeat was largely due to the efforts of W&L's Dick Pinck who managed to net 21 points before the closing whistle.

Returning home, the Richmonders scored an upset over the Virginia Cavaliers to the tune of 27 to 21. Burge regained his old form to lead the Spiders with ten points. Although Humbert added 11 points to the cause, the Red and Blue quint could not match the set shots of the William & Mary Indians in the next game, and lost this all-important game by a 43 to 38 score. This defeat meant that the Pittmen had to win their next two games in order to gain a conference bid. The two teams to be played were the Washington and Lee Generals, who were already crowned state champions, and the VMI Keydets.

With the pressure on, the Spiders went into the W & L game to win, and win they did, staving off a desperate rally in the closing minutes. Playing one of their best games of the season, they maintained a comfortable lead and won handily, 32 to 26, advancing another notch toward Raleigh. After the General win, the Spiders were unbeatable, and the hapless Keydets were swamped under a 52 to 21 landslide. Arthur Jones figured prominently in the scoring, accounting for 13 points, and Coach Pitt used every man on the bench in the walkaway. This victory cinched a conference bid for the Spiders, putting them in seventh place in the ratings. In their last contest on the regular schedule the Pittmen lost to an inspired Cavalier team at Charlottesville, 36 to 20.

BASEBALL

STATE CHAMPIONS in Baseball for 1939! For the fourth time in five years Coach Pitt came up with a top-flight team that took the measure of every nine in the state. Led by hard-hitting Captain Jack Sanford, the high-flying Spiders swept through a sixteen game schedule, winning fourteen and losing only two.

Throughout the entire campaign, the pitching duties were borne by a three-man staff, which dwindled to two at the most crucial point in the state race. The hard-working three were Starke Jones, Porter Vaughan, and Ned Butcher. Butcher suffered a case of appendicitis at Lexington near the end of the season, and was lost to the team for the rest of the year.

One of the main highlights of a brilliant record was Butcher's "no-hitter" against Yale. In this game Ned struck out fourteen men and allowed no hits to become the second Spider hurler to enter baseball's Hall of Fame.

The early season form of the Spiders gave full warning of the caliber of Coach Pitt's 1939 entry. Opening with Ohio University, the Pittmen garnered their first two wins, 3-1 and 4-2. Jones and Vaughan worked the first game, and together they fanned ten and allowed four hits. In the second game the Ohio team got eight scattered hits, but the Spiders gave Butcher excellent backing and he received credit for the win.

Facing Cornell the Spiders really put on the pressure and swamped them under a fifteen-hit barrage by a 14 to 2 score. Stukie Hoskins with four and Captain Sanford with three hits led the batting spree. In the same mood, the Spiders opened their bid for the state crown, with an impressive 21-0 shellacking of the W & L Generals. The game was ended in the eighth by agreement, and when the smoke was cleared away the scorebook showed twenty hits for the Pittmen and two for the visitors. Vaughan pitched a honey of a game allowing only two scratch singles. Only five men reached first base, and twelve went down swinging.

The Spiders took time out from their state wars to trounce the touring Yale nine, 11 to 0. This was Butcher's day, and he came through with a perfect performance. Starting his first game for Coach Pitt, he let the Yale men down without a single hit. He also led the hitting with three for three.

In their next venture the Spiders lost a heartbreaker to the Virginia Cavaliers by a one-run margin. After pitching a beautiful game, Vaughan saw it slip from his grasp when the Cavaliers pushed across the winning run in the ninth inning. Both pitchers allowed four hits.

The Richmonders jumped back into the win column a few days later with a 10 to 6 victory over VPI. Butcher fanned thirteen, and his mates garnered ten hits to clinch the game. Hoskins, A. B. Marchant and Wish Martin led the hitting. Rain cancelled the Maryland contest, and the Pittmen traveled to Blacksburg to defeat the Gobblers again by a margin of 21 to 3. The undefeated Randolph-Macon nine was the next Spider victim, falling before the slants of Porter Vaughan, who allowed four hits, fanning sixteen. The Pittmen played errorless ball to win 5 to 0.

With Vaughan again on the mound, the William and Mary Indians went down in defeat, 8 to 3. Every player on the Spider squad got at least one safe hit. Butcher, playing in the outfield, got three for three, to lead the hitters. Traveling to Lexington, the Richmonders met and defeated the Keydets, 3-1. In what proved to be his last game, Ned Butcher gave up five hits to get credit for the win. It was after this game that Butcher suffered an appendectomy and was lost to the team.

The return game with Randolph-Macon developed into a pitcher's duel, which "Lefty" Vaughan finally won, 3 to 2. He struck out twelve and gave three hits. After the Jackets had gone out in front, Bill Burge tied it up at 2-2 with a mighty home run with one man on the bases. Dodd scored with the winning run, from third base, on an error. The Maryland nine was next, and they gave the visiting Pittmen an 8 to 5 beating. Going into the eighth inning the Spiders had a one-run lead, which disappeared before the Old Liners' five-run rally. Captain Jack Sanford was the leading hitter with four for five.

In an all-important title game, the Richmonders were avenged for an early defeat, by downing the Cavaliers at Charlottesville, behind the two-hit pitching of Porter Vaughan. Catcher Hoskins started the fireworks with the longest home run ever seen on Lambeth Field. The ball was last seen speeding through the weeds in center field. Toots Garber, the Spider shortstop, played an outstanding game. Vaughan and Sanford also walloped home runs during the afternoon.

Captain Jack Sanford

After knocking off the Keydets in a close 4-3 game, the Spiders were only one step away from the state title, with the Indians being the only obstacle. Going into the sixth inning of the William and Mary game the Pittmen were trailing by four runs due to miscues of the infield. However, the State Champions regained their old form and drove across three runs in the sixth and seventh innings to win, 6 to 5, clinching the title for 1939.

In the state meet, in which the Spiders took fourth place, Captain Morrison took an easy first in the discus toss with a mark of 140 feet 5 inches, establishing a new school record. Sinar was a consistent winner in the javelin event and also took a first in the state meet. Another school record was shattered in the Indian meet when McVay made a heave of 44 feet 7½ inches in the shotput.

Taking eight first places and tying for another the Red and Blue harriers easily took their initial meet on the schedule from the Hampden-Sydney Tigers. With Bob Keil leading the way the Spiders piled up an 83½ to 42½ margin over the visitors. Keil took firsts in the high jump and high hurdles, Morrison, in the shotput, Sinar, in the javelin, and Bill ReMine, in the broad jump. In the running events Afie Jones, Arthur Wagner, and Bill Brauer breasted the tape ahead of the pack winning the century, 880, and 440 features.

The following week Keil again led the scoring with double wins in the high jump and hurdles as the Richmonders defeated the N. C. State tracksters 69 to 57. Jones, ReMine, and Sinar again captured their events, and Harold McVay placed first in the shotput. Richmond's Herring and Holladay combination tied for first in the two-mile run. Sinar's mark of 190 feet, 2 inches was the day's highlight.

The Generals of Washington and Lee won easily by a 80½ to 45½ margin. Afie Jones captured the only first place in the running events, with a time of 10.1 seconds in the 100 yard dash. McVay in the shotput, Sinar in the javelin, and Jack Sanford in the discus accounted for the only other Spider firsts of the day.

The following week Richmond bowed to the VMI Keydets on a water-soaked track and a muddy field. The final tally read 75-5/6 for the Keydets and 51-1/6 for the Red and Blue. Gene Peek took his initial first place of the season with a victory in the broad jump.

The William and Mary Indians wrote a rather gloomy finish to the 1939 season with a surprising 68 to 58 victory on their home track. Evan Van Leeuwen ran a beautiful race to take the mile run, and Harold McVay made a record-break-heave of 44 feet, 7½ inches to capture a first in the shotput.

The Tennis Team

FINDING THE OPPOSITION well up on their backhand and forehand strokes, our tennis team last spring won only seven out of fifteen matches. Yet the brilliant play of Captain Bobby Leitch, who later won the Richmond City Championship and went to the semi-finals in both the State and Southern Conference Tournaments overshadowed the playing of many of our opponents.

The season opened as March drew to a close with the team on the road. In three days they played Carolina at Chapel Hill where the mighty Tar Heel net men whitewashed the Spiders 9-0, Carolina State at Raleigh which Richmond took 5-4 in an exciting afternoon of tennis, and lastly at Wake Forest where the Spider net men came out on the large end of a 7-2 score.

A Dartmouth match was rained out here on April 1st, and two days later an invading Michigan team took all nine matches. Albright bore the brunt of the Spider fury after this defeat and went down 6-3 before Leitch and Company on our own courts in a match well-played by the Spiders.

April 15th found the Spiders in Washington where G. W. handed them a 6-3 beating and the next day offered no solace for at College Park the boys went down 8-1. Maryland repaid the visit a week later but our home courts only gave us two more matches and Maryland counted her second win over our team, 6-3.

William and Mary proved easy on their own courts and lost eight out of nine matches. However, V.M.I. a few days later shadowed this victory by beating us 6-3 on our own courts.

May opened with 9-0 scores over both William and Mary and Wake Forest, but although we played brilliantly against Duke and Virginia, they were too much for us. The former won 6-3, the latter 9-1.

On May 10th the tennis team closed its season with a 7-2 win over the N. C. State here.

John Abernethy was elected captain for the 1940 season.

Westhampton Athletic Association

THE FRESHMEN WERE INTRODUCED to the Association and the spirit for which it stands at a picnic lunch during orientation week, which was given in place of the usual treasure hunt. In the fall, the Association continued its drive for school spirit by the presentation to the college of a set of "Gopher Golph." This novel sport, new on the campus, has been at the disposal of the students throughout the year.

The year 1939-40 has been an outstanding one for the Athletic Association of Westhampton College. Under the leadership of Caroline Doyle, it has fostered a program to build up the school spirit of the College through the advancement of social activities.

Two dances were sponsored with great success. The annual Christmas dance closed the winter season, and the spring dance, given in honor of the athletic captains, climaxed the spring season.

The achievement of greater school spirit was brought out admirably in the annual Song Contest. The junior class won a close victory this year in a contest better than ever before.

As a part of the program to bring the athletic departments of Westhampton and Richmond College closer together, the Westhampton Athletic Association sponsored two recreation nights which were attended by letter winners and outstanding class members of both schools.

The annual banquet for the old and new athletic boards, team captains, and seal winners closed a most successful year for the Athletic Association.

The Hockey Squad of Westhampton College

THE SPIDERETTE VARSITY HOCKEY SQUAD rounded out the 1939 season with only two defeats against their record. Miss Fanny C. Crenshaw, coach, was replaced by Mrs. Grubbs, who did a fine piece of work in leading the Co-ord eleven.

With nine games on their schedule, the Red and Blue aggregation came through with six wins, one tie, and two defeats. Opening up the season by a tilt with Thomas Jefferson, the Co-ords showed their urgent need of hard practice. From then on to the State Tournament it was easy going for the Spiderettes. Their teamwork improved, and individual stickwork and technique greatly profited by the match games. Lucy Baird, speedy left wing, was elected captain by the Westhampton stick-wielders.

The Virginia Hockey Tournament was held at Williamsburg on November 3rd and 4th, and the Co-ords competed in three match games. They played the femmes from William and Mary College, the Apples, and a team made up mostly of players from Hollins. They won two of these tilts but lost to the Indians by a 4-2 count. Smith, center forward, was selected by the judging committee for the Virginia team which competed at the Southeastern Tournament. This season was a long one and the last game was played at Sweet Briar, December 9th, when the Spiderettes lost to their old rivals 2-0, in one of the closest tilts ever played with the strong Sweet Briar eleven.

On the Basketball Courts

WITH VICTORY THEIR KEYNOTE, the Westhampton court femmes completed the season with only two defeats, one at the hands of the powerful Madison College sextet and the other by Hopewell High School.

All four classes shared the honors with outstanding players from each on the unusually large squad. Co-captains Dot Roberts and Caroline Doyle led the team through the season of nine games, scheduled by Manager Lucy Baird. Reba Booker was Assistant Manager for the year.

The most gratifying victory was the win over Blackstone which last year, by one point in the last exciting minute of play, toppled the Co-ord basketeers from the list of the unbeaten.

High-scoring honors go to Senior Lucy Baird, closely followed by Tommy Thompson.

Letter winners were Baird, Doyle, Roberts, Dodd, Smith, Cardwell, Keuffel, Badenoch, Lawson, and Thompson.

TRACK

IN SPITE OF THE FACT that Westhampton College does not place great emphasis on track, quite a number of Co-ords reported. Individual performances were better than usual and track, at least, to the students, was becoming more important.

Having only an intramural track meet at the end of 1939 season instead of any dual meets, the Co-ord cinder stars met up with some stiff competition before the winners came through.

Elsa Keuffel, '42, was individual high scorer with 16 points, and the Class of '41 took the team cup for their second straight win with 49 markers. Letter winners were Keuffel, '42, Helen Dodd, Kira Nicholsky, and Eleanor Kindell, '41, and Mollie Fleet.

Winners in the meet events were as follows: 50 yard—Keuffel; 75 yard—Purcell; 100 yard—Fleet; Hurdles—Keuffel; Hop, step, jump—Fleet; Shot-put — Keuffel; High jump — Staples; Basketball throw—Philpott; Broad jump—Nicholsky; and Relays—sophomores.

TENNIS

THE SPIDERETTE TENNIS TEAM started out the varsity season with ladder play as a method to select the position of a player for intercollegiate competition. The ladder was made at random so that the members of the squad had to play several matches in advancing to the top of the list. A player could challenge any of the two people directly above her on the ladder.

The ladder method of play made team positions subject to change at any time, and therefore all players had to keep in top condition. This proved an incentive for practice and steady improvement.

Helen Dodd, '41, won out for the number one position for her second year. Elsa Keuffel, '41, played up to the second place, and Mary Alice Smith, Dorothy Kyte, and Margaret Purcell, constantly competed for third place.

Matches were played with Thomas Jefferson, John Marshall, Collegiate, and St. Catherine's. Besides these varsity matches, intramural competition went on throughout the entire season.

Reporting for practice were Keuffel, Dodd, Trussell, Kyte, Purcell, Smith, Baird, McLarin, Britt, Florance, Scherer, and Shafer.

Blazers

THE WESTHAMPTON BLAZER is awarded to any individual who has made her letter in any three varsity sports. Thus recognition is given for unusual achievement and skill in athletics; the stripes on the insignia designate the number of sports in which a varsity letter has been won, and the stars indicate the number of times letters have been won.

Elsa Keuffel, '42, showed her athletic ability by winning a blazer in four sports in her freshman year. Other girls to win blazers in their freshman year were Judy Florance and Helen Dodd. Blazer owners are Helen Dodd, Judy Florance, Mollie Fleet, and Elsa Keuffel.

Seal Winners

THE HONOR OF A FLANNEL SEAL is conferred, each spring, on those members of the Junior and Senior classes who have shown the best sportsmanship in college life and the greatest leadership in athletics. It is their coöperation and school spirit that makes the games successful and enjoyable, and because of their enthusiasm and interest in the promotion of athletics, they are awarded the seal of Westhampton College. This presentation is made by the Athletic Association Board of the College.

Winners of the seals at the Athletic Association banquet in May, 1939, were Marion Wiley, and Kate Peterson, members of the Class of 1939; and Caroline Doyle and Dorothy Roberts, members of the Class of 1940.

STAN TUTWILER
Business Manager

THE UNIVERSITY OF RICHMOND has catalogued its literary creations in the Messenger for about seventy-five years; at first as a coöperative work of Mu Sigma Rho and Philologian Literary Societies, and later on as an independent organ of the University. A review of its pages presents the work of many who have later become famous as writers —but always the magazine has depicted the trend of thought contemporary to its publication.

The Messenger is not a type magazine, as can be seen from its contents this year: sports, fantasy, humor, drama, history, religion, and the like, offer opportunity for any creative literature which may be peculiar to various types of minds. This, indeed, is its purpose.

This year's Messenger incorporated the editorial policy of previous years with two exceptions: it would print no controversial material unless both sides were given equal opportunity to present their views. The staff felt that mere criticism was not literature. Secondly, it sought to present stories of fact concerning the college and its life which would be of lasting interest and information to the student body. A short biography of Dr. S. C. Mitchell won unanimous praise from the entire campus.

Westhampton Editor

FROM A TINY two-windowed room in the Playhouse building there comes each week with steady regularity the official news organ of the University of Richmond Student Body, The Richmond Collegian. The year of 1939 marked the twenty-fifth year that The Collegian had served the campus faithfully in its capacity as a newspaper and also as a training school for prospective student journalists.

The Collegian celebrated its twenty-fifth anniversary in the December 1st issue, although the original date of publication was November 25, 1914. The anniversary issue reviewed the history of the University and of the paper itself in a panoramic view of each year's activities. Its twelve pages made it the largest issue, ever published by local students.

The beginning of another terrible conflict "over there" marked the year of 1939-40. The editors of The Collegian recognized the latent danger covering the whole earth by their always reminding streamer "America must stay out of war!"

This battle-cry was always present except in the never-to-be-forgotten April Fool issue when it was changed to "Miss America must stay out of the water!" The subtle (?) humor of The Collegian brain-trust was indeed exhibited at its best in that copy. Another important event of the year was the meeting of several hundred student journalists at Richmond when the Pi Delta Epsilon convention was held at the University in the fall. Another fine feature of The Collegian year was the student polls that were conducted to determine student opinion on various matters. The students voted against the Southern Conference Eligibility Blank and they said that they thought the newly suggested Quietus System was a good idea but "it probably wouldn't work."

The editorial policy was one of the finest in scholastic journalistic circles. Symbolic of its wide-awake attitude, The Collegian campaigned against the Heller Bill. "Men of ability" were demanded for the Richmond College Student Government; the Senate was fired upon because of its seeming laxity; strengthening of the Honor System was recommended; and many other needed reforms such as a "C" average for all political office candidates were backed. The verbal fireworks that had flared over the Westhampton College Student Activities Building and its facilities for dating extended to the editorial columns of The Collegian.

John E. Jordan directed the activities and the policies of the paper during the 1939-40 year from his position as editor-in-chief. He was assisted by the Editorial Board of eight and a staff of twenty-five members. These thirty-four budding journalists produced thirty-three issues of twelve hundred copies each, and had them waiting in the Playhouse for the crowds of students leaving each Friday's convocation service.

This is the hundredth anniversary of the University of Richmond. A century has passed since our inconspicuous beginning at Lombardy and Grace; and we, the editors looking backwards and at the same time keeping a constant eye at the future, feel that we have come a long way—and that each year was a point nearer to a greater and finer university.

We have attempted to relate in this year's WEB the history that our university has undergone: the bright full and rich years of peace and advancement; the dark and tragic years of war and destruction; and the good intermingled with the bad. We have sought to record the progress that we have made in the last century. The division pages this year in accordance with our theme contain two pictures; one depicting the old and the other depicting the new. The idea here is to show through the medium of photography something of the change that we have undergone through the years. To each who sees the pages a different story may be told but underlying it all will be the fact that our experiences here have formulated these stories for us. We are deeply grateful to Miss Lucy Throckmorton and Dr. Garnett Ryland for their help in this particular phase of the annual.

Because this is 1940—the age of the camera, we have doubled the amount of informal snapshots, and lessened the amount of written material. We are no longer concerned with the task of describing scenes and events; we have no need for it. Instead we present them not as we think they are, but as they really exist. Pictures do not lie—and we have here preserved the memories of your college days as they actually did occur.

And lastly, we have tried to make this your year book. Not a year book that can belong to any year and to any university or college, but rather one that expresses without a doubt that it belongs to the University of Richmond and to the year 1940.

We have dedicated this particular anniversary annual to four scholars who have dedicated their lives to the University. These men have largely been responsible for the growth of our University, and in this humble manner we have tried to express the appreciation felt by those of us who really love the University of Richmond and them.

To the staff and to all the students of the University we wish to express our sincere appreciation for their help in making this Web possible. Without your coöperation and interest we frankly admit that our task would have been impossible.

Forensic Council

THE PAST YEAR has been one of advancement and growth for the Forensic Council. The chief instrument of this advancement was the new constitution drawn up for the Council.

The new document, written by John Jordan, chairman of the Council, changed the size and make-up of the group as well as redefining its duties and making more concrete its aims. The new arrangement provides closer control over the three literary societies as one of its features.

As in the past the forensic leaders sponsored and backed the Inter-Literary-Society Debates in the spring. There was also the Oratorical Speaking Contest held in the form of a group of after-dinner speeches following the Forensic Council Banquet at Ewart's Cafeteria. The Council also took the lead in organizing Forensic Contests in several local high schools.

Debate Team

THE UNIVERSITY OF RICHMOND has grown during the past year and not the least part of its growth is the finer and more polished debate team turned out during the past months. Gilbert Siegel, manager of debate, has guided the team through a large group of sharply contested debates in a well-planned forensic program.

The team completed a long southern trip visiting Florida, Georgia, South Carolina, and North Carolina as well as a trip through the State, debating both men's and women's colleges. All of the debates were non-decision and so no winning or losing percentage is available; but it is safe to say that all those individuals who took part came out on the winning side of the ledger. There is no finer training for thinking and speaking than debate.

S. C. Mitchell Literary Society

THE SOCIETY WAS FOUNDED IN 1930 by a group of town students who were unable to attend the meetings of the two similar organizations on the campus. It is named after Dr. Samuel Chiles Mitchell, who has done much for the College and the Society since his affiliation with Richmond College. This year, 1940, will celebrate the tenth anniversary of the founding of the Society. In honor of this celebration and Dr. Samuel Chiles Mitchell, the Society struck a key with the bust of Dr. Mitchell on it. This key was presented to Dr. Mitchell one morning before one of his classes by a committee composed of Thomas Bruno, Randolph Parrish, and George Rochkind.

The Society has backed every move for the good of the College that has been started on the campus. This year the Society participated in inter-society debates, having as its debators, Ed Johnston, Irving Lovenstein, Charles Adams, and Kenneth Miller. Also at the Forensic Council Banquet they were represented by Kenneth Miller and George Rochkind in the after-dinner speech contest.

At the regular meetings everything from Union Now to How to Raise Chickens was discussed. Extemporaneous speeches were often heard and also open discussions.

S. C. Mitchell coöperated with the Mu Sigma Rho and the Philologian Literary Societies in sponsoring a hoop-throwing booth at the Campus Carnival. The booth was a success and the literary societies are proud to have done their part toward contributing to the new Student Activities Building for Richmond College.

Kenneth Miller discussed the values of a union of democracies, particularly at a time like this.

George Rochkind discussed the care of a young newspaperman who was denied the right of freedom of the press. It was an enlightening discussion.

The Society meets on Monday nights at the T. C. Williams Law School. Dexter Abeloff served as president the first semester and Thomas Bruno led the Society the second.

Richmond College Glee Club

THE RICHMOND COLLEGE GLEE CLUB was organized in 1926, being one of the first college glee clubs in the state of Virginia. In the club's fourteen years of growth, it has attained a high standard of efficiency, and has built up a reputation that is indeed a credit to Richmond College.

Among its first activities this year, the club sang at a Pep Rally before the William and Mary football game and at a Homecoming broadcast.

On a three-day trip to South Carolina in March, the club presented an admirable concert at Meredeth and Coker Colleges.

The club sang regularly in Chapel, and at Vesper Services every third Sunday evening. In February, they sang at Ewart's Cafeteria and at Grove Avenue Baptist Church during the Baptist convention in March. The Glee Club also appeared over the weekly college radio program. The Glee Club also sang at various high schools in the state and through this gave much publicity to the College. On May 3rd, they concluded a great year when they sang at Amelia High School.

The officers for this year were as follows: Mr. Alton Howell, Director; Robert W. Durrett, President; Gordon H. Andrews, Business Manager, and Lawrence E. Spiers, Librarian.

Westhampton Glee Club

THE WESTHAMPTON GLEE CLUB under the direction of Mrs. F. Flaxington Harker was organized in 1924 for the purpose of creating an interest in the development of the singing voice and of affording an opportunity for the appreciation of good music to those girls who enjoy singing.

The chief activity of the Glee Club this year was the singing at convocations and chapel services each week and at Vesper Services in Canon Memorial Chapel on Sunday nights. The group also gave a concert on the campus and several out-of-town concerts.

This year's officers include: Charlotte Ann Dickinson, President; Dorothy Hewes, Vice-President; Mary Owens, Secretary-Treasurer; Sarajayne Payne, Librarian, and Pauline Cortopassi, Pianist.

University Band

UNDER THE ABLE LEADERSHIP of Mr. Sinclair the 1939 edition of the University of Richmond band has enjoyed its most successful season. The rapid development of the band is greatly due to the excellent leadership of Roy Wymbs, President and Marion Rice, Business Manager.

With the addition of the new uniforms and an increase in membership the band proudly displayed their maneuvers at the football games. For their excellent showing, the band accompanied the football team to Lexington where they helped pep the team on to victory. Besides playing at the games, the band played an important part in our pre-game pep rallies.

Larry Sheffield was drum major and performed in professional style throughout the year. From time to time guest drum majorettes were invited to lend added color to the blue and red clad band as they paraded at half-time at the football games.

In chapel the band provided a much appreciated program and undoubtedly gave the student body one of the best programs of this school year playing everything from Wagner to stirring martial music. Encores were the order of the day.

To round out a great season the band journeyed to Winchester where they paraded in the Apple Blossom Festival with several other fine bands.

Mr. Sinclair, director, has worked hard with his musicians and the student body, particularly the seniors, can readily realize the improvement that has come about.

This year much more interest in the band was aroused than in previous years and with an anticipated increase in membership next year the band hopes to swell its ranks to fifty or more musicians. The future of music looks bright at the U. of R.

Y. M. C. A.

THE Y.M.C.A. ENDEAVORS to maintain a high moral and spiritual element on the campus and in every way possible, to improve relations with Westhampton College. The organization is housed in a small building directly behind Jeter Hall. In this building the students may enjoy the use of several ping-pong tables, a radio, piano, many of the current magazines and newspapers. The building is always open so that the students may feel free to go in at any time.

During the current year the Y.M.C.A. sponsored a ping-pong tournament, and a horseshoe tournament, which created a fine spirit of friendly rivalry and competition among the students. At Christmas season a tree was decorated in the building in the effort to stimulate a true Christmas spirit.

In preparation for the Religious Emphasis Week in coöperation with the Y.W.C.A., the "Y" Cabinet conducted a religious poll in order to learn what subjects the students desired to hear the most. A program was presented in the Sunday Vespers by the Y.M.C.A. and Y.W.C.A. preceding the Religious Emphasis Week.

The main work of the Cabinet this year has been directed toward a stimulation of interest among the students for the Y.M.C.A. A whole room was refurnished and painting was done in the building; the campus movies were presented to the entire campus, and new hymn books obtained. After those progressive strides this year, the "Y" hopes to exert even greater influence in the coming years in campus progress.

Y. W. C. A.

THE YOUNG WOMEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION of Westhampton College was organized in 1914 as a functioning part of the National Y.W.C.A. The purpose of this organization is to encourage the growth of community and group spirit among Westhampton College students and to foster the growth of friendship and religious education on the campus.

Before the school year of 1938-39, membership in the Y.W.C.A. was automatically formed upon entering Westhampton, but in the spring the constitution was revised to make membership voluntary. Several committees have been combined and others created to meet the several needs.

Basing their activities around the theme of "Abundant Christian Living," and striving to fulfill the real meaning of this theme in every phase of life, the Young Women's Christian Association during the past year has come to be, more than ever before on the campus, a vital force for the best and highest. The year has seen the consolidation of committees for better organization, the introduction of new committees in order to widen the scope and purpose of the Association, and a more constant emphasis upon its threefold aim: mind, body, and spirit.

The activities of the organization for 1939-40 have included social service work in the community, the betterment of relations between the races in the locality, a heightened interest in national and international affairs, leading to the sending of petitions to the Federal Government concerning vital policies, and a true deepening of the fundamental religious welfare of Westhampton's campus.

The officers are: President, Alice McElroy; Vice-President, Henrietta Sadler; Secretary, Sara Goode; Treasurer, Antoinette Wirth.

Chairmen: World Fellowship, Louise Morrisey; Social Service, Ethne Flannagan; Day Students' Committee, Jeannette Evans; Industrial, Margaret Ligon; Worship, Betty Willets, Mayme O'Flaherty; Recreation, Jean Miller; Program, Vista Robinson; Freshman, Kathleen Jones.

University Players

UNIVERSITY PLAYERS had an inconspicuous beginning more than forty years ago when a group of thespians got together and formed the "Masked and the Wig Club." The group had no set rules and regulations; and it was open to those who showed a keen interest in dramatics.

Now, almost a half century later the dramatic group, under the guidance of Carlson Thomas, is just about the same as it was then. With possibly one exception: its name has been changed to University Players.

From beginning to end, it was a glorious and busy year for the Players. The plays that were given varied from the blank verse of Maxwell Anderson's "Winterset" to the highly hilarious melodrama of a hundred years ago, "The Drunkard." To satisfy the various tastes of the campus, the Players presented for their spring play, Robert Sherwood's "Idiot's Delight."

Early in April, University Players took an original one-act play, "Back from Texas," by their own Bill Maner to Chapel Hill to be given at the Carolina Playmakers Festival. It was a huge success, for it made Broadway critics sit up and take notice of the Players.

To climax the season, the Players presented Beaumount and Fletcher's "Knight of the Burning Pestle," at the Luther H. Jenkins' Greek Theatre. It personified the work that the Players did all year. It was a fresh and real portrayal of things Elizabethan and it received ardent acclaim from campus and local newspapers.

Pegasus

WITH A membership composed of those students majoring in Latin, Pegasus has as its aim the development of a greater appreciation of classicism and of the ancient authors on the Westhampton campus. Ably guided by Miss Marjorie Rivenburg, professor of Latin, the club in the past year has presented a radio program and a chapel program which met with much approval. In the spring Pegasus entertained at a tea to interest those students majoring in Latin in joining the group, and the membership was appreciably increased. Once each month during the past year the club has held social meetings, at which many outside speakers were entertained. The organization is one of the most notable groups on the campus.

The Ionian Music Club

ESTABLISHED IN THE FALL OF 1938 for the purpose of enlarging the appreciation of music on the Westhampton campus, the Ionian Music Club has in the past year rendered a great service to the college. Taking over the piano fund for the Student Government Association, they sponsored a square dance in February to raise additional money for this fund. The square dance was a complete success, and the club is hoping to make it an annual event. Under the able guidance of Mrs. Frank Wendt, teacher of piano, the club has developed into one of the outstanding groups on the campus. This year the club has achieved its highest membership since its beginning.

FOUNDED ON THE Westhampton campus in 1920 and now sponsored by Miss Margaret Ross, the Debate Council has for its purpose the bettering of forensic relationship with other colleges, and the increasing of the appreciation and knowledge of debating at Westhampton.

The council debated a question concerning isolation chosen by Tau Kappa Alpha, national forensic fraternity. Among the colleges debated were Bridgewater, Averett, Bucknell, Pennsylvania, New York University, Farmville, and Mary Washington. As the membership of fifteen exceeded all previous years, the debates were able to be bigger and better.

INCLUDING IN ITS MEMBERSHIP those students of Westhampton College whose mother, aunt, or grandmother attended the Richmond Female Institute or the Women's College, Nostrae Filiae has grown in the past few years into one of the outstanding social organizations on the campus. The group was entertained this year at a tea by the alumnae of the two predecessors of Westhampton College. In an attempt to increase their scholarship fund, which was begun last year, the club sponsored a lecture on flower arrangement in the spring of 1939. To add further to this fund during the coming years is the objective of Nostrae Filiae.

The National News Council

THE NATIONAL NEWS COUNCIL is a relatively new organization made up of a limited number of girls elected because of their vital interest in national affairs. It has brought several speakers to the campus for national news. The group met twice a month, and was sponsored by Dr. Maude Woodfin. This year the organization was led by the very versatile Mabel Leigh Rooke.

The International Relations Club

THE INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS CLUB of Westhampton College has for its purpose the promoting of a well informed interest in contemporary affairs. The club is composed mainly of history majors, but others interested in current topics are allowed to join.

The club is sponsored by Dr. Susan M. Lough. This year at the first meeting of the chapter Dr. Lough gave an account of her European voyage during the summer. Several informal talks are heard first at each meeting and these talks form the basis for a round table discussion which follows.

The Ministerial Association

WE ARE PROUD TO SAY on the hundredth anniversary of Richmond College, that the Ministerial Association has had a great part in molding the institution through the years. The organization has kept faith with the great purpose set forth by its founders: "The increased spirituality of ministerial students; to encourage them to take part in the exercises of the various missions of the city; to encourage their participation in all proper college activities; to assist the president of the college in sending out students to fill vacant pulpits; and to exert a helpful influence on the student body."

Every week programs of spiritual songs and messages have been conducted at the Home for Incurables.

Each student has the opportunity to take charge of the services of the churches in Richmond and vicinity at least one Sunday night during the year.

Interfraternity Council

THIS YEAR THE WORK of the interfraternity council has been threefold. Most important, they have worked toward better relations between the eleven fraternities on the campus. Toward this end they sponsored again this year an "Interfraternity Better Relations Week" during which time members of the various fraternities visited among themselves. Climaxing the week was a banquet held in the college refectory for fraternity men at which Dr. Theodore Adams, pastor of the First Baptist Church, was the principal speaker. Kappa Alpha Fraternity was awarded a prize for having the largest per cent of its members at the banquet.

Secondly, the council worked toward improving this year's Homecoming by offering a prize to the fraternity that put on the best welcome for the alumni. This offer spurred the fraternities on to decorating their homes and rooms in a gala fashion and certainly made this year's homecoming a greater success. The prize, incidentally, was awarded to the Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity.

Thirdly, the council has endeavored to make the dances this year better than ever before. Such orchestras as Mal Hallett and Russ Morgan played here this year. The council again carried out their subscription plan and it proved very successful. It is much to be regretted that the local musicians' union saw fit to place the University of Richmond on their blacklist because of the fact that some non-union bands had played here this year. However, the student body on the whole feels that the dance committee has done its best.

KAPPA ALPHA

THE STUDENTS AT WASHINGTON COLLEGE on December 21, 1865 for the most part were war veterans. They were young in years, of course, but seasoned in the acrid smoke of Antietam, the carnage of Gettysburg, and saddened in the memory of a quiet morning at the Appomattox Court House. General Lee was President of the college which later became Washington and Lee. And the boys who had followed him in the profession of arms were able to renew their studies under his guiding hand. Among them were the founders of the Kappa Alpha Order. Just five years later on March 18, 1870 the old gold and crimson banner of K.A. was raised at Richmond College. It was the first social fraternity on our campus and has a record of continuous active existence since that date.

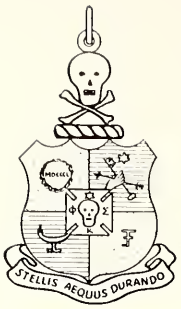
During its seventy-five years of growth the Order has expanded from a single chapter to a national organization of sixty-nine chapters. They are all found in the territory below the Mason Dixon Line from the Atlantic Seaboard to the Gulf, extending beyond the Rockies. Of the sixty-nine chapters seven are located right here in "Ole Virginny."

On our campus, Kappa Alpha is well represented in the Chemistry Club, Glee Club, Y.M.C.A. and on THE WEB staff. The Messenger staff claims Tate, Richmond College Editor, Tutwiler, Business Manager and Simpson Williams, Assistant Business Manager. Kappa Alpha also had several of its men on the Collegian staff, and quite a representation in Rho Eta Sigma Historical Society.

Athletically, Bill Terry won a letter for football. Cox, Taylor, and Barnett were members of the cross-country track team. As track managers, Daniels, Gladding and Bob Black were kept busy. Also, Tutwiler was chairman of the Interfraternity Dance Committee. Simpson Williams was a member of the Honor Council while Henry Black was the representative to the Board of Publications, vice-president of the Senior Class and president of Alpha Mu Omicron. Also John A. Byrd was treasurer of the Freshman Class. Kappa Alpha was extremely active in the Philologian Literary Society, Ministerial Association, Camera Club and Radio Guild.

The crowning social event of the year was the Spring Formal held in the Gymnasium. On January 19, the Chapter celebrated jointly with its alumni, at a banquet and dance, the birthday of its spiritual leader and founder, Robert E. Lee. The Kappa Alpha social season closed with a house party on the James River. All in all, Kappa Alpha had a very successful season on the campus and is looking forward to many more in the years that lie ahead.



PHI KAPPA SIGMA

THE PHI KAPPA SIGMA FRATERNITY originated under the leadership of Samuel Wylie Mitchell on October 19, 1850. The Alpha Chapter is located on the campus of the University of Pennsylvania.

Phi Chapter was installed at Richmond College on the fifteenth of January, 1873. The man responsible for its organization was Leroy Edwards. Phi Chapter's charter members consisted of four men. They were Addison Holladay, George Swann, Thomas Alderson, and Patrick Eager.

Spence, Walter Story, Walter Scott Townsend, James Turkington, Evan Van Leeuwen, George White, Mark Willing, Sam Wills.

The local fraternity proudly claims three Past Grand Alphas of the National Fraternity. George P. Bagby, 1915; Thomas B. McAdams, 1927-29; and Patrick M. Estes, 1929-33. The alumni of Phi Chapter are very active in Richmond and watch with interest the progress of the fraternity here.

Phi Kappa Sigma is very strong in its representation in activities on the campus. James Turkington was President of his Junior Class. Evan Van Leeuwen has served as President of the Y.M.C.A. cabinet and Walter Gillette was Senator at large in Student Government.

In athletics, Phi Chapter is represented by the following: Evan Van Leeuwen, Manager of Inter-Collegiate Relations and Intramural Sports; James Turkington, Manager of Football for the 1940 season; Douglas Laird, Junior Manager; Gordon Andrews, senior cheerleader; Mark Willing and Irvin Owen, assistant cheerleaders. Richard Cash, Bob Keil, and Coxie Bowen are on the varsity football team. Cash and Walter Storey represented Phi Chapter in Freshman basketball. Evan Van Leeuwen, James Turkington, and Bob Keil are all members of the Varsity track team. Keil has served on the Interfraternity Dance Committee and Mark Willing, a Sophomore, was treasurer of his class and Chairman of the Centennial Dance sponsored by the Freshman and Sophomore classes.

The Chapter's social program consists of two formal dances each year in addition to smaller informal functions. This year's fall formal was one of the outstanding successes of Phi Chapter.

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON

SIGMA ALPHA EPSILON Fraternity was founded eighty-four years ago at the University of Alabama. Only during the War Between the States has its growth been halted. Since that memorable night of March 9, 1856, 113 chapters of Sigma Alpha Epsilon have been established in 45 of the states. Virginia Tau Chapter was founded at Richmond College in 1884. Later it became inactive, but it was re-established in February of 1938.

Virginia Tau Chapter has taken her place among the leading fraternities of the campus from the start. SAE has always had a strong position in intramural athletics and it ranked third in scholarship last year.

This year there are thirty-five active members and four pledges. Among those participating in extracurricular activities are: Walter Bass who is editor of the Messenger, member of the Honor Council, and just recently elected to Phi Beta Kappa; Hatcher Elliott and Garland Haddock are members of Alpha Mu Omicron; Phil Lawrence is a member Sigma Pi Sigma; Phil and C. P. Ford are members of the Chemistry Club; Harvey Hobgood is the head cheerleader.

In athletics SAE has four captains. Hoskins was captain of basketball and baseball. Ed Sinar is captain of track. Hatcher Elliott captained the cross country team. Both Ed Sinar and Jack Powers added a great deal to the Spider line last fall. Gene Peek, "Fish" Herring, Bob McNeely and Hatcher Elliott added much to the track team.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon has three large rooms in C Section of Jeter Hall. The Fraternity gave several dances during the season. The high light of the year was the Founders' Day Banquet and dance held at the John Marshall Hotel, which was a great success. Last Christmas the Fraternity gave a party for twenty underprivileged children. This included a movie, a dinner and one of the basketball games; all were given presents. Though SAE is losing many outstanding members this year, we look forward to another splendid rushing season such as we had last fall under the excellent leadership of our Eminent Archon Hatcher Elliott. All are certain that the Fraternity's success in the future is secure.

PHI GAMMA DELTA

1940 MARKS THE COMPLETION of fifty years of service to the University for Rho Chi chapter of Phi Gamma Delta. The Fijis' Golden Anniversary was marked by a two-day celebration begun with a commerative convocation in Cannon Memorial Chapel, and climaxed with the annual Norris Pig Dinner at which Dr. Douglas Freeman, distinguished Fiji alumnus, presided.

With Seabury Stoneburner, vice-president of Omicron Delta Kappa and member of Phi Beta Kappa, as President, the Phi Gams got off to a flying start by putting the White Star on eleven pledges.

Having eight brothers on the Red and Blue gridiron, the chapter followed the Spider football fortunes, religiously, but they managed to keep enough men at home to finish third in the intramural football race. Rho Chi's contribution to the Richmond team were Enders Dickinson, outstanding guard, Harold McVay, star tackle and captain-elect for 1940, Dick Humbert, "Ripper" Collins, and Fred Frohbose, ends, Arthur Jones, flashy tailback, and Billy Robinson and George Shackelford, dependable reserves.

Keeping the campus informed of the exploits of these and other Fijis, were John Jordan, ODK, PDE, and PBK, editor-in-chief of the Collegian, and Al Waddington, sports editor of the same organ, as well as other lesser members of the staff. Other Fiji members of Pi Delta Epsilon, were Luther Jenkins and Al Waddington.

Outstanding social event of the fall for the Phi Gams was the Fancy Dress Ball, which was moved from the spring season to avoid conflict with the anniversary celebration. Numerous house dances and cabin parties filled in the vacant week-ends between other dances on the campus to give the chapter a busy fall.

With winter came basketball. Phi Gams once more rallied around and turned out in full force. Four were finally chosen to continue on the squad. They were Stoneburner, Humbert, Jones and Mac Pitt, Jr. At the close of the season Humbert was elected to lead the hardwood squad in next year's battles. Luther Jenkins was the varsity manager and Eddie Adams was appointed to look after the affairs of the freshman basketball players this year.

The members continued their good class work which won second place in the scholastic list last year, and at the end of the first semester a count showed that sixteen men made the Dean's List, four with straight A's; and four of the members captured Intermediate Honors.

Winter intramurals again found the Phi Gams among the leaders. A first place in volleyball and third in basketball gave the Fijis a good shot at the major trophy for excellence in all sports, which has resided in the house for the last five years.

A full spring social program was high lighted by the Spring Formal in Millhiser Gym, which was a part of the Golden Anniversary commemoration.

Porter Vaughan, star southpar and major league prospect, was the leading hurler for Coach Pitt's Spider nine. Two Phi Gams, the Green brothers, Waverly and Tom, were on the managing staff.

Captain John Abernethy toured the country side with his tennis team which had four other Fijis as regulars and three reserves who are Phi Gams.

In the spring elections, the Coöperative Party put Leslie Phillips in as representative to the Board of Publications Mac Pitt in as a student senator.

For this excellence in all fields the national fraternity in 1940 awarded Rho Chi chapter the Newton D. Baker Cup, coveted prize for the chapter giving the greatest service to the University or college at which it is located.

PI KAPPA ALPHA

THE CLOSE COMPANIONSHIP of six Confederate soldiers who wanted to be bound together in a secret brotherhood organization, in order to perpetuate their friendship, is the story of the founding of Pi Kappa Alpha. The fraternity was founded at the University of Virginia, March 1, 1868. These six students were from the highest type of southern families and were keen believers in warm friendship and high ideals. Omicron Chapter was first chartered at Richmond College on October 23, 1891. However, several of the charter members did not return to college, and, consequently, it was withdrawn. The Chapter was reorganized in 1901.

There are several outstanding events that form a full social program for Pi Kappa Alpha. First event of the season was the State Ball, which was held in one of Richmond's leading hotels Thanksgiving week-end. All state chapters of Pi Kappa Alpha are co-sponsors of this ball, which was considered by many as the best affair of the year. Other outstanding social affairs were our Founders' Day celebration on March 1, and the Pikas' house party at the end of school session.

Pi Kappa Alpha men hold many prominent positions in campus life. William Fitzhugh served as senator from the junior class and was elected this spring to serve as Athletic Representative. Ed Merrick held the position as Athletic Representative this year. Austin Grigg, William Cash and Clyde Lipscomb are members of Alpha Mu Omicron. Earl Fox is a member of Rho Eta Sigma and Beta Beta Beta. Mario Gamboa is in the Chemistry Club. Austin Grigg is president of the Psychology Club and Clyde Lipscomb is president of Alpha Delta. Besides this many members are connected with the school publications, literary societies, Interfraternity Council, Harlequin Club, and dance committees.

In athletics, Ed Merrick has made the football team at the university famous. He captained the team through one of its most successful seasons and he himself won much recognition throughout the country. He was elected to All-State and All-Southern Conference center. Bill Fitzhugh and Joe Mack were also stars on the football field along with Alex Moore. In basketball Jimmy Ely was a regular and starred throughout the season. Fitzhugh, Fox, and Wagner were trackmen, Bill a weight man, and Wagner and Fox were runners.

KAPPA SIGMA

THE KAPPA SIGMA Fraternity was founded at the University of Virginia by five men: William Grigsby McCormick, Frank Courtney Nicodemus, Edmund Law Rogers, George Miles Arnold, and John Covert Boyd. The first meeting of the fraternity was held in McCormick's room, 46 East Lawn, on December 10, 1869. McCormick is the only one of the five founders living today. The fraternity has grown to a national fraternity consisting of 110 chapters.

The Beta Beta Chapter of Kappa Sigma at the University of Richmond was organized on March 5, 1809. It is one of the leading fraternities on the campus. Beta Beta has taken a great interest in the intramural athletics on the campus and its social functions are of the best. The annual Spring Formal held at the Country Club of Virginia was one of the most entertaining dances of the year.

Beta Beta is well represented in the different activities on the campus. William ReMine served as President of the Student Government for 1939-40. Carlson Thomas, who did a fine job with the leading rôle in "Winterset," served as President of the University Players for 1939-40 and is also a member of Omicron Delta Kappa Honorary Fraternity. Jimmy Baggs, who is a member of Pi Delta Epsilon Honorary Fraternity, has served as Business Manager of the Richmond Collegian for 1939-40. Albert Weaver, who graduates this year, is Senior Editor of the Richmond Collegian and Editor-in-Chief of the Richmond College Handbook. Ed Arendall, President of the Philologian Literary Society for 1939-40, was tapped for three honorary fraternities, Omicron Delta Kappa, Pi Delta Epsilon, and Tau Kappa Alpha. He is Editor-in-Chief of the Richmond Collegian for the year 1940-41. Bert Milling, a Sophomore, is Vice-President of his class. Gordon ReMine also a Sophomore, is one of the Senators of the Student Government for the coming year. As for athletics, Bruce Van Buskirk, Bert Milling, Syd Knipe, Gordon ReMine, Warren Pace and Basil Hayley are our contribution to football. Bill ReMine is a track star and Van Buskirk, Knipe, and Milling are our contributions to the crew. Stan Richards is the Sophomore Manager of the basketball team and Derek Hayley is the Sophomore Manager of the baseball team.

Kappa Sigma looks forward to many more years on Richmond College campus just as successful as this one has been.

SIGMA PHI EPSILON

THE SIGMA PHI EPSILON Fraternity was founded at Richmond College, then located on the old campus at Lombardy and Grace Streets in the city, in the year 1901. It had its beginning as a Saturday Night Club, organized by six of the College students in order that their ideals and purposes might be more easily carried on. Later in the year the group petitioned the faculty for permission to become a fraternity. November of the same year saw the organization of the Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity, while the following year saw the granting of a charter by the State of Virginia, a firm foundation upon which to build and expand as seen by its present nation-wide organization.

Thus, Virginia Alpha Chapter on the campus of the University of Richmond, is known as the "mother" chapter of the fraternity, and as such, is a contemporary of Richmond College, for it has grown and developed along with it.

Sigma Phi Epsilon is a prominent fraternity on the campus, and Virginia Alpha is, indeed, one of the strongest chapters of the fraternity. Every year it has been among the leaders in its pledge groups.

The chapter, as always, has been active in its social life. Its cabin parties have gained a distinction for their ingenious forms of amusements. It also initiated the practice of holding the annual Spring Formal dance open to the whole campus.

Virginia Alpha is well represented in the campus life of the college. Ed Garber is the newly elected President of Student Government for 1940-41 after having served as Vice-President of the Junior Class. Paul Saunier, who is graduating this year, is one of the most outstanding men on the campus. He is President of Omicron Delta Kappa and of Pi Delta Epsilon, the national journalistic fraternity. He is identified with the Messenger, associate editor of the Richmond Collegian, and Secretary of Student Government. In addition he has taken an active, if not leading, part in many other campus activities. Allan Phaup is President of Rho Eta Sigma, Honorary History Society and Thomas Bruno of the S. C. Mitchell Literary Society. Robert Talley is Treasurer of the Senior Class and Herbert Davis, President of the Freshman Class.

Sigma Phi Epsilon, despite its comparative youth as a fraternity, has played an important part in the life of Richmond College, and hopes to continue to do so in the future.

THETA CHI

THE OMICRON CHAPTER of Theta Chi Fraternity observed the twenty-fifth year of its existence on the Richmond College campus this year with a celebration unequaled in the life of the chapter.

Originally Zeta Xi, a local organization, the fraternity was inducted into the national brotherhood on April 10, 1915, and since that time has continued to occupy a prominent position in college activities.

The Silver Jubilee celebration marks a big milestone in the history of the chapter. Attending the two-day observance, in addition to the local alumni and active members of the fraternity, were out-of-state notables and officers of Theta Chi. President F. W. Boatwright and Dr. Samuel Chiles Mitchell were speakers at the banquet which preceded the dance in the ballroom of the John Marshall Hotel.

Theta Chi's membership takes an outstanding part in extracurricula activities on the college campus. One of the sophomores, T. E. Warriner, Jr., is News Editor of the Richmond Collegian, a member of the Debate Team, treasurer of the Philologian Literary Society, and has taken part in two play productions this year. William A. Grant, Jr., was elected last March to the 1940-41 Student Government Senate, is Assistant Editor of the WEB, serves on the Y.M.C.A. Cabinet, and played on his freshman baseball squad. Another member of the Junior class, John H. Locke, is Decorations Chairman for the Interfraternity Dances, was captain of the touch-ball team that captured the trophy for us last fall, and has won his numerals in basketball and baseball. Particularly noteworthy among the outgoing seniors is Jack R. Noffsinger, who has served for two years as Chairman of the Richmond College Planning Commission. He held the Presidency of the Mu Sigma Rho Literary Society during his Junior year and was also the representative to the Forensic Council from that organization. In addition to his work with the Radio Guild, he holds membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, Tau Kappa Alpha, and Phi Beta Kappa. Carlton A. Whitlatch, another senior, has been President of the University Players, secretary of his Junior class, Director of the Prom figure, and a member of Omicron Delta Kappa. C. P. Younts, outgoing President of Omicron, is a past President of the Harlequin Club, and has taken an important part in interfraternity sports.

The Theta Chi Mothers' Club holds a unique position in the hearts of the members, and the group has been very helpful in aiding the fraternity in social functions, assisting in house decoration, and in giving the house the added touch that makes it home to Omicron's members.

The fraternity has seen twenty-five years of achievement. Now Theta Chi looks ahead to another quarter century of growth.

LAMBDA CHI ALPHA

ALTHOUGH LAMBDA CHI ALPHA is one of the youngest fraternities, not being founded until 1909 when many other fraternities were well expanded, it is now the fourth largest national fraternity, having one hundred and eight active chapters located at the leading universities and colleges in the country. The year 1939 was a red letter year for Lambda Chi Alpha for it saw the merging of the fraternity with the Theta Kappa Nu Brotherhood, an affiliation that greatly enhanced its strength. Alpha Chi Zeta of Lambda Chi Alpha was installed on the University of Richmond campus May 8, 1918 and since that day has entered whole-heartedly into every phase of campus life.

And this year the fraternity was very active in campus life. Bill Burge was a senator-at-large and Frank Baker was senator from the sophomore class. Arthur Beck was business manager of the Spider Handbook and was tapped into Pi Delta Epsilon honorary journalistic fraternity. Lambda Chi Alpha is well represented in the literary societies, the publications, the Harlequin Club, and the Interfraternity Council, and has four men on the Y.M.C.A. Cabinet. The chapter contributed much to the athletic teams of the university this year. Bill Burge, end on the varsity football team, was elected to the All-State team and also elected to the All-Southern Conference second team. Besides football Burge also starred in basketball, where he played center, and baseball where he played first base. Frank Baker and Joe Amrhein both sophomores made their letters in football, John Griffin was a member of the track team. The chapter was well represented on the freshman squads and teams were entered in all intramural sports.

This year Lambda Chi Alpha has been under the leadership of John Muse Bareford. Under his guiding hand the chapter had the honor of installing the new chapter at Randolph-Macon. Lambda Chi has an active Mothers' Club and Alumni Organization that work hand in hand with the chapter and help in any way that is possible to build the chapter's quality. Mr. Claude Kidd, President of the Richmond Alumni Chapter was the founder of the University of Richmond Quarterback Club.

Highlights on the social calendar for the past year were the Spring Formal held at the Hermitage Country Club, the annual week-end house party, the banquet given annually at the Commonwealth Club at the end of each pledging season, and numerous minor functions.

Lambda Chi Alpha has a set of rooms in Thomas Hall from where all of its many activities are carried on. Sam Moody has been elected by the chapter to take over where John Bareford left off in leading the chapter. The fraternity is looking forward to a great year next year.

PHI DELTA THETA

PHI DELTA THETA, ranking among the leaders of college fraternities in size and age, had its birth on the campus of Miami University in Oxford, Ohio. Six students who had become very good friends banded together at the suggestion of Robert Morrison, a senior, on the night of December 26, 1848, and from that meeting emerged a new college brotherhood. Founded on the principles of a cultivation of friendships among its members, the attainment of a higher degree of mental culture, and the seeking personally of a high standard of morality, Phi Delta Theta has grown in ninety-two years to a brotherhood of over fifty thousand members. Today, its one hundred and seven active chapters are distributed throughout the United States and the six dominions of Canada. For many years the fraternity has been nationally famous as one of the "Miami Triad," composed of Beta Theta Pi, Sigma Chi, and Phi Delta Theta, all of which have been on the University of Richmond campus in former years.

Phi Delta Theta first came to our campus in 1875 when the national fraternity chartered Virginia Delta Chapter. However, after twenty years of fraternal leadership, the chapter became dormant in 1895. In the fall of 1938, the petition of Phi Delta Omega, a well-established local fraternity of good standing at the University of Richmond, was accepted at the national convention of Phi Delta Theta. After forty-four years of dormancy Virginia Delta was to be restored. The installation of the chapter in February, 1939 was a memorable event in campus fraternity life, for it marked the passing of the last local and the entrance of a strong national to the Grecian circle at Richmond.

The active chapter is now little over a year old. Among the leaders in the campus activities is Eddie Bragg, vice-president of the Student Government for 1939-40. Bragg is one of the few three letter men on the campus. He was one of the main cogs in the wheel that rolled Coach Thistlethwaite's Spider Eleven through such a successful season last fall, and as a forward on Coach Pitt's Varsity Five, Eddie's twenty goals helped us over many a crucial moment. On the track team, Bragg throws the javelin with record-breaking skill.

Ned Butcher, of no-hit, no-run fame from last year's game with Yale is the only Phi Delt on the Spider nine this year. Ned made his letter at football, too.

Phi Delta Theta is represented in almost every college activity and organization, the Glee Club, the publication staffs, the literary societies, etc. Not having more than three graduating members this year Phi Delt looks forward to a bigger future with the campus activities.

The outstanding social event of our fraternal year was the annual Thanksgiving Formal in the gym the night before the big game with William and Mary. A number of private dances and week-end parties filled the Phi Delt social calendar throughout the year ending with the house party in June.

The Phi Delts look forward with eagerness to many years of fellowship and service to this institution and the organizations within its gates.

PHI ALPHA

NEVER BEFORE since its installation on the Richmond College campus on February 6, 1925 has Rho Chapter achieved the standing and prestige it now boasts. Phi Alpha points with pride to its social standing, scholastic attainments and to its share as an integral part in the function of the university system.

From a body of 8 men 15 years ago, Phi Alpha can now show an increase to 28 members. Through these 15 years, Phi Alpha has been a leader in the scholastic ratings on the campus. Six times the Interfraternity Council Scholarship Cup, that is awarded annually, has made its way to the Phi Alpha room. One cup has been awarded to the chapter for permanent keeping; and with the highest average attained for the year 1938-1939, the name Phi Alpha has been engraved for the third time on the present cup.

Phi Alpha is doing its share in partaking in social activities at the college. Her greatest advance was the Rho-Tau dance, held on February 23, the affair was very successful with a great number of our student body helping us celebrate on this annual state-wide function.

"Win or lose," Rho chapter's intramural athletics team is always out fighting and ready to give a good account of itself against all competition.

Although small in number, the men of Phi Alpha have distinguished themselves in honors, extra-curricula activities and leadership. She is proud of her seniors, three of whom were honored with Phi Beta Kappa. Dexter Abeloff besides being one of the "Phi Betas," has held a class office, has been a member of the Forensic Council and Y.M.C.A. Cabinet, president of the S. C. Mitchell Literary Society, an officer of the Chemistry Club, and managing editor of the Collegian sports staff.

George Rochkind, another "Phi Beta," is a member of Alpha Mu Omicron and secretary of S. C. Mitchell Literary Society.

Gilbert Siegal, the third "Phi Beta," is a member of Alpha Mu Omicron, Tau Kappa Alpha, Forensic Council, vice-president of the Philologian Literary Society and manager of the Debate Team. Phi Alpha is also proud of its remaining seniors, Aarons and Salisbury, Dean's List men, and Watts.

For the future, Phi Alpha looks to Martin Markowitz, Herman Rockoff and Norman Brown as its campus leaders. All are Dean's List men, with Phi Beta Kappa prospects in view. Markowitz holds the office of secretary of the Student Government, a position no one else in the fraternity has ever obtained. Rockoff and Markowitz are members of Beta Beta Beta, have both received chemistry honors, and are both past secretaries of the Philologian Literary Society. Brown is assistant business manager of the WEB, and is very active in class activities. Dave Grandis is a member of the Chemistry Club.

Phi Alpha has many pledges affiliated with the organization among whom are Bey Jacobs, Freshman football, and basketball teams; Dan Sasmor, Freshman football; and Stan Watts, WEB staff and Freshman basketball.

At its national convention on January 1, 1940, the local chapter received the national scholarship plaque and Dexter Abeloff was awarded the distinguished undergraduate award for the year.

Alpha Delta

RECOGNIZING THE NEED of a professional fraternity on the Richmond College campus for ministerial students, a few of their number founded Alpha Delta fraternity to meet that need. This completes the seventeenth year of its existence, having been founded in 1923. Since that time the membership has been comprised of active and interested men of the cloth.

Under the leadership of Clyde Lipscomb, the fraternity approaches the end of 1940 and looks back upon a very successful year. The climactic social event of this session was the annual banquet given at Ewart's Cafeteria to which all of the alumni were invited. This was followed by a party at the home of a member, Linwood Brandis.

The officers for the past year were: Clyde Lipscomb, President; George Stephenson, Secretary, and Thomas Pugh, Treasurer. Among the more distinguished alumni members of Alpha Delta are Dr. Solon B. Cousins, Professor of Bible at our university, and Dr. Harlan, Professor of Sociology.

Pi Delta Epsilon

Honorary Journalistic Fraternity

IT IS PARTICULARLY fitting that in the hundredth year of the mother institution of the University of Richmond the local chapter of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary collegiate journalism fraternity, was host to the national convention of that organization. On November 17-18, 1939, some fifty delegates from colleges and universities as far away as Minnesota congregated on our campus to conduct their national convention. The success of that two-day meeting was the year's outstanding achievement for the host chapter, which operated under the leadership of President Paul Saunier, Vice-President Marie Keyser, and Secretary-Treasurer Professor E. C. Peple.

Omicron Delta Kappa

Honorary Leadership Fraternity

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA is a national honorary leadership society for men. Founded at Washington and Lee University in 1914, ODK has experienced a rapid growth in size and influence. It is now a member of the select Association of College Honor Societies and has active circles in forty-four American colleges and universities. Epsilon Circle of Omicron Delta Kappa was chartered at the University of Richmond in 1921.

The purposes of Omicron Delta Kappa are threefold: first, to recognize men who have attained a high standard of efficiency in collegiate activities, and to inspire others to strive for conspicuous attainments along similar lines; second, to bring together the most representative men in all phases of collegiate life and thus to create an organization which will help to mould the sentiment of the institution on questions of local and intercollegiate interest; third, to bring together members of the faculty and student body of the institution on a basis of mutual interest and understanding.

ODK has been extremely active this year in serving the students of the University. This society sponsored the great Campus Carnival for the benefit of the Student Center fund, backed the C-average amendment passed by Student Government, set up committees for the entertainment of visiting teams, and studied and reported on various student problems. It is through ODK, the one organization where faculty and students meet on an equal basis to discuss campus affairs, that most administration-student problems are solved.

Law School members are: W. R. Blandford, E. P. Brown, W. S. Goode, J. W. Gordon, Jr., C. L. Harrell, Jr., H. D. Jones, L. L. Jones, E. W. McCaul, J. W. Pearsall.

Mortar Board

MORTAR BOARD, national honorary society for senior women, was founded at Syracuse University in 1918. Pi Alpha, a senior honorary society at Westhampton, founded in 1921, was granted a charter on June 26, 1930. Miss Isabel Harris was chosen sponsor of the group. There are at present sixty-nine chapters of Mortar Board at colleges and universities throughout the country.

New members are elected to Mortar Board in the spring of their junior year. The qualities upon which their election is based are leadership, scholarship, and service.

The aims of Mortar Board are to work constructively for the betterment of the college community, to foster school spirit and a feeling of cooperation between the students and the faculty, and to hold high the ideals for which the organization stands. The theme of Mortar Board for this year has been to emphasize college spirit, with special emphasis upon better feeling of personal responsibility.

Tau Kappa Alpha

Honorary Forensic Fraternity

TAU KAPPA ALPHA, honorary forensic fraternity, was organized by eleven representatives from Indiana colleges and universities in the office of the lieutenant governor of Indiana on May 13, 1908. It was introduced to the Richmond College campus in 1917, and in 1931 a Westhampton College chapter was formed. It is the oldest honorary fraternity on our campus.

The fraternity recognizes forensic attainments meriting honor, seeking to inspire in its members a higher cultivation of the art of public speaking and to instill in them the desire to use their talents towards worthy ends. To be eligible for membership, a student must have participated in at least two intercollegiate debates, and proven himself able in other literary activities, either in the literary societies or on the publications.

As a result of an extensive debate schedule, three men were tapped into the Richmond College chapter of Tau Kappa Alpha in a formal tapping ceremony in the Cannon Memorial Chapel. This tapping ceremony was unique in that the Westhampton chapter participated with the Richmond College chapter tapping four women.

Alpha Mu Omicron

On January 10, 1935, Alpha Mu Omicron was founded at Richmond College by a group of men majoring in the Social Sciences. A.M.O. was founded for the purpose of creating a greater interest in the Social Sciences among the student body. In stressing this purpose, the society encourages outside work; that is, various members at each meeting will report on topics in which they are interested and on which they have spent a great deal of time in research.

At these meetings which are held every other Monday, pertinent subjects are discussed. The Society each year sponsors at least one prominent speaker to deliver an address to the student body.

Col. Leroy Hodges, State Comptroller, and former president of the State Chamber of Commerce, was the speaker sponsored by the group.

HARLEQUIN CLUB. Harlequin Club

THE PRIMARY PURPOSE of this organization composed of three men from ten of the social fraternities on the campus is the stimulation of better relations between Westhampton and Richmond Colleges. This purpose is carried out through the medium of social affairs given on several occasions throughout the school year.

In the fall a dance was given at the Kappa Sigma Fraternity house and this first function of the year started the club's social activities in fine fashion with the largest crowd ever to attend a Harlequin Club function. The spring dance was held in the Theta Chi house in honor of the new officers and was the final social event of this year's calendar.

In a different mode from the usual club affair a picnic was also held at one of Richmond's popular parks after which the members and their dates enjoyed dancing to music furnished by "Nicky and his Lodians."

Like last year a bridge tournament was sponsored by the club and eighteen teams entered. Held in April this year in the Y.M.C.A. building the competition was stiff due to the exceptional brand of bridge exhibited by the players. Bill Heflin and Dortch Oldham of Theta Chi fraternity defeated Dick Cash and Mark Willing of the Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity to win the Harlequin Club trophy.

The officers for the past year were: C. P. Younts, President; John Watkins, Vice-President; Stan Tutwiler, Secretary; and Thomas Jordan, Treasurer.

May Day 1939

IN ACCORDANCE with the tradition of having an elaborate May Day only once every four years, and in the intervening years offering a simple ceremony, the Class of 1939 of Westhampton College last May Day presented the old familiar legend of Robin Hood and his Maid Marian. Set in the green beauty of the classic Greek theatre and backed by flowers and trees, the play, unfolded with Sparks Brewer as the hero of Sherwood Forest and with lovely Virginia Shuman as Maid Marian. The entire Senior Class, dressed in long flowing gowns, was the charming background for the pageant, and the five most beautiful seniors, chosen by the vote of the whole college, acted as Marian's court. These were Betty and Marian Conrey, Agnes Deaton, Dorothy Shell, and Jane Langley. The crowning of the Queen of the May by Robin Hood was followed by the presentation of several dances by the Modern Dance Group under the direction of Betty Carper, and a short play by Mary Sue Carter and Mary Grace Scherer. Robin Hood then invited all the court to visit the folk dances and the games on the green—into which the upper hockey field had been transformed by the witchery of the sophomores—and to partake of the refreshments offered by the booths surrounding the Fair.

Another tradition of May Day, beautifully executed this year, was the Freshman Lantern Parade up the hill past the lake and into the Greek theatre just as dusk was falling, where the group formed a "W" with their lights, and then serenaded the Queen beneath her open window. Closing on a note of gaiety and joy, May Day ended with a dance in the gymnasium given by the sophomore class for their senior "big sisters."

Is the Seed of Success in You?

That is the question that every man faces as the time draws near for him to enter the business world. If you are able to save money, you can succeed; if not, you will fail! You may not think so, but you will lose as sure as fate, for the seed of success is not in you. Man has one fundamental weakness. His inability to hang on to his material possessions. Life insurance is the only plan which is certain to offset this fundamental weakness. It not only assists him to save his money but guarantees to him the safest investment and the most secure protection.
